To You, Coach "Bob"
we Dedicate the 1950 Yackety Yack

In a period of great Carolina men, we turn this year to one who through time and ability has truly proven his worthiness. For over a quarter of a century Coach Bob Fetzer's name has been synonymous with better athletics at the University of North Carolina. Before joining the coaching staff at Carolina Coach Bob earned his B.S. degree at Davidson in Mechanical Engineering. There follow in quick succession an M.A. in Physics, also at Davidson and at Clemson he received another B.S. in Electrical Engineering. After teaching at Woodbury Forest Preparatory School from 1909 to 1913, he returned to Davidson as head football coach for one year before acquiring a position as chemist for the Southern Cotton-oil Company. From 1916 to 1918 he occupied the position as chemist for the state. In 1919 he returned to Woodbury Forest and in 1921 came to Carolina.

For over 28 years every phase of athletics at Carolina has been strengthened through his constant efforts to improve the athletic program. During his administration, the department has blossomed into handsome Woollen Gymnasium, Bowman Gray Memorial indoor swimming pool, and Kessing outdoor pool. The "Dean of Southern Track" as he is often referred to, has served as chairman of the Southern Conference Track Committee and as a member of the N.C.A.A. The track team, personally coached by him, has won over ninety Southern Conference championships or more than a third of the titles in the 16-member league. Thus we dedicate this, the 60th volume of the Yackety Yack to the man we know and love.

R A Fetzer

"MY DAY" AT U.N.C.

Dr. Frank Graham

In the course of "our day" here, we came to look upon Dr. Frank, with his friendly smile and genial, engaging personality, as a permanent part of the University, even as he is the living embodiment of its spiritual traditions and philosophy of democracy in action. Over almost a half century of close association with Chapel Hill, he became so much a part of Carolina, and Carolina was so firmly bound up in his whole being, that it was scarcely possible for us to think of Dr. Frank apart from Carolina, or Carolina apart from this little man of great heart who presided over its destinies for two decades.

"MY DAY"

at U.N.C.

As we began our academic trek through these four happy, eventful years, Dr. Frank had just returned from his war-time service in Washington, and had turned his full attention to the needs of a University doubled in size and facing the post-war trials of adjustment and adaptation to the new era.

Again it was our privilege to partake of the experience which to many of us was the greatest Carolina had to offer—those Sunday evenings, when we gathered about the cheery hearth in Dr. Frank's library. Mrs. Graham, a perfect complement to him, helped make these "open houses" family get-togethers. Whether of his own student days, of his experiences in London or Washington or Indonesia, or of his unquenchable faith in the democratic way of self-determination which is the genius of America, his words were eagerly heard, and long will be treasured in memory of heart and mind.

Any student who came to him for advice or assistance, Dr. Frank was never too busy to see, even if it meant that some disgruntled dignitary must wait. Never did he forget that his first responsibility was to the students—nor did we forget that in Dr. Frank we had a President upon whose support we could unfailingly rely, if we conscientiously felt ourselves to be in the right.

Then came the greatest shock of "our day", when Dr. Frank was appointed United States Senator.

We had hoped, with unconcealed selfishness, that we might keep in our midst, where we might draw from him continued inspiration and encouragement, this humble, courageous prophet and practitioner of democracy. Those of us who knew so well all that his vigorous intellect and unflagging energy had meant to Carolina paused to ponder our irreparable loss.

With reflection came the realization, confirmed by the early beginnings of a brilliant Senatorial career, that we in our loss had enabled him to do valiant battle on a far vaster field for his compelling ideals and principles, born of a life of service to his fellow man, and for one world where men might live as brothers in the full dignity of human personality, and in peace.

Consolidated Offices

CHAPEL HILL

TO THE CLASS OF 1950:

Chapel Hill has given you an understanding of the tradition in which we live. You have learned the techniques of thought and communication, and habits of study.

Now you leave the sheltered paths of this charming old campus for the highways of the world. You should go out with full knowledge that you are not completely educated . . . You merely have the tools to educate yourself and this process should continue throughout your lives . . . Remain forever close to your University. Keep the Faith you have acquired here. Keep the Faith and spread the Faith.

Keep this Yackety Yack always. It's like an old-fashioned music box, whenever you open it, there will echo and re-echo in your ears and hearts the music of Chapel Hill: the church bells. . . the Bell Tower chimes. . . orchestras at dances. . . bands at football games. . . the sound of Tar Heel voices. . . the friendly voices of your teachers. . . the cheery "hey" of your friends.

And the priceless pictures in this treasure chest will refocus in your minds hundreds of happy hours spent in the sunshine, in the moonlight and under the stars of Chapel Hill. . .

Down through all the years of your lives, wherever you may go, your heart will always beat just a bit faster whenever you hear the symphonic syllables: Chapel Hill.

God bless all of you.

Always,

Robert B. House... Chancellor

ADMINISTRATION

Deans of the University

KATHERINE CARMICHAEL
Dean of Women

WILLIAM FRIDAY
Dean of Men

E. L. MACKIE
Dean of Awards

To the desk of Chancellor Robert B. House comes all the administrative problems of our University. It is seldom that we can catch him in this pose, for each hour of the day he is busy seeking solutions to the many problems that challenge his wisdom. Chancellor House is not only a hard-working and efficient administrator, but a helpful friend to each and every Carolina student.

Acting in the absence of Dean Fred Weaver, Dean William Friday is to all students a living example of young Carolina leadership. Honored many times in praises much better said than we could ever hope to phrase, we can only say here that in Dean Friday every Carolina student finds competent and able guidance.

Dean Katherine Carmichael has won the praise and admiration of all who know her. As Dean of Women, she each year wins the love and respect of the many Carolina co-eds. Her heart and office are always open to their many problems and she never is too busy to listen with understanding to their daily tales of woe.

No one can mistake the friendly smile of Dean Mackie. As Dean of Awards, he keeps accurate account of all honors given by the University. With the infinite details that Dean Mackie has to keep up with, you never find him too busy to pass the time of day with a student.

DEANS

DEAN WILLIAM WELLS
School of Arts and Sciences

DEAN C. P. SPRUILL
General College

DEAN D. D. CARROLL
School of Commerce

Faced with the tremendous task of guiding the academic life of the University men and women, the administrative officials began long before registration planning the routine of Carolina classes which is taken for granted by all students. Their job did not cease with the first day of class, but throughout the year they concerned themselves with the needs of every student.

1950

DEAN G. B. PHILLIPS
School of Education

DEAN SUSAN G. AKERS
School of Library Science

DEAN ROY ARMSTRONG
Dean of Admissions

Their offices swarmed with men and women who were seeking answers to various sorts of problems. The Deans felt deeply their responsibility for the future and welfare of every student in their individual schools. Continuing in their role of service to Carolina men and women and to the University, they have done their part in simplifying and organizing our daily college existence.

Alumni Association

University of North Carolina

More than 40,000 persons—including all living graduates and other former students—comprise the alumni body of the University of North Carolina.

Among these 40,000 Carolina men and women the General Alumni Association is an organization seeking to tie together in a comprehensive program the good will and loyalties of all alumni in furtherance of the best interests of the University. Through alumni class organizations, local alumni associations, a monthly alumni magazine, the Alumni Office, and other agencies the Association invites every former student to participate in its activities.

For the individual former student his or her addressograph mailing stencil in the Alumni Office files is a connecting link with the University. These stencils — bearing up-to-date addresses — make available for alumni and University use address lists of alumni by classes, by location, by degrees, by professions or occupations, and in many other ways. Reunions, homecomings, local alumni meetings and other Association projects are dependent upon accurate address lists.

The Alumni Review, published monthly as a magazine and weekly in the fall as "football supplements", is mailed by the Association regularly to a large list of dues-paying members. Each magazine affords a "reunion in print" with news from the University about campus happenings, faculty, and alumni. Dues-paying alumni also are the ones eligible to vote in annual mail balloting for Association officers.

For every former student—whether member or not, graduate or ex-matriculate—there is always a welcome at the Alumni Office, located in the Carolina Inn. And there is always an invitation to participate in the Association's program "to link the past with the present for the future of Alma Mater."

WILLIAM H. RUFFIN

Governor KERR SCOTT President of the Board of Trustees

The Board of Trustees of the University of North Carolina is under the General Assembly and has full power over the affairs of the school. Members are elected, one from each county in the state, for eight year terms which are staggered so that one-fourth of the number is elected every two years. An Executive Committee of the Board is authorized to act between meetings as the Boards' general agent. A Finance Committee is subject to the Board and to the Committee for its power and duties. The acting governor of the state is the President ex-officio of the Board of Trustees.

JUNIOR CLASS

This is the Junior Class — the boys who have been here for three years, the girls from W. C., Stephens, G. C. and St. Mary's — first year without Dr. Frank — welcoming the team after the Tempest-in-a-water-pot at L. S. U. — school kids around the planetarium — and watching those stars! . . . Notre Dame with Bop City and the G. A. Club — Duke, Gene Krupa and Woollen Gym — Cider wagons at Fraternity Row — Boys playing football outside B-V-P — Graham Memorial any day — any night — pledging — parties — poker — Rainy days and Tradition — The Seniors we'll miss — the Seniors whose shoes we'll be filling — But, there's more of us — another chance to make Phi Beta Kappa — another class of Coeds to see come in — another football season — maybe another Bowl Game—A few more cool ones down at Harry's or at the Curve-In in remembrance of the Choo and his reign—joining that club we've wanted to for years — Basketball games — Tar Heels — Rushing — and maybe a few more bricks to replace that good ole mud tradition!

SOPHOMORE CLASS

We returned this year as Sophomores . . . the majority of us, that is . . . much wiser and not nearly as confused. Not many representatives of Phi Eta Sigma in the group . . . but there is evidence of an increased number of the well-known "party" boys, it comes with experience.

Morehead Planetarium is completed, but most still prefer the Arboretum. Doctor Frank is gone . . . amid tears . . . but education remained. With the passage of time, this Greater University has become an integral part of our lives. The Daily Tar Heel has become a close associate with our eight o'clock classes. The Tarnation, after much struggling has become our handbook.

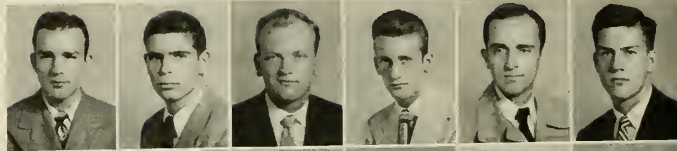

WE, the Sophomores, have joined the privileged ranks and have such experiences behind us as New York and Notre Dame . . . what does the future hold? We have the football team, don't we? It's no longer a case of the blind leading the blind . . . we have learned the way from Harry's to the dorm. General College is fast slipping by . . . and then comes the rewarding event . . . the coveted cap and gown.

Two more years to go . . . an eternity in thought, but happy days go with the wind. . . .

FRESHMAN CLASS

September, 1949, found us a group of confused Freshmen, wandering over the campus, and wondering where to go next and which line to stand in when we got there. The orientation program, however, soon made us feel as if we belonged here and though college life was rather strange at first, we quickly accustomed ourselves to it and began to sing "Hark the Sound" as though we'd been here for years. We acquired the Carolina spirit and yelled as loudly as anyone at the games. Our courses weren't quite as hard as we had imagined and we liked the idea of having only three classes a day. We soon became used to standing in midnight movie lines, Harry's, and getting sand in our shoes. To us, these things typified Chapel Hill and we wouldn't have traded them for anything.

But we quickly found that it wasn't all play and "burning the midnight oil" became a reality. Good grades suddenly became more important than just getting by, and we began to save most of our fun for the week-ends. We really enjoyed ourselves then, though, and learned to party like Carolina gentlemen. As work and play assumed the correct proportions and we lost some of our green Freshman characteristics, we began to look forward with hope and assurance to next year when we could return as Sophomores to what we now considered home.

Following an intensive orientation program for the freshmen and new students, 196 future pharmacists settled down to labs and classes.

The fall was highlighted by a buffet supper at Graham Memorial given by the school, rushing by the two pharmacy fraternities, Kappa Epsilon pledgings, initiations, and their party for the new girls, the football week-ends, the N. C. P. A. membership drive, and the Christmas party given by the Pharmacy Girls' Association.

Everyone was too busy with classes, Senate meetings, the social events of the fraternities, basketball games, and study to notice winter's bleakness.

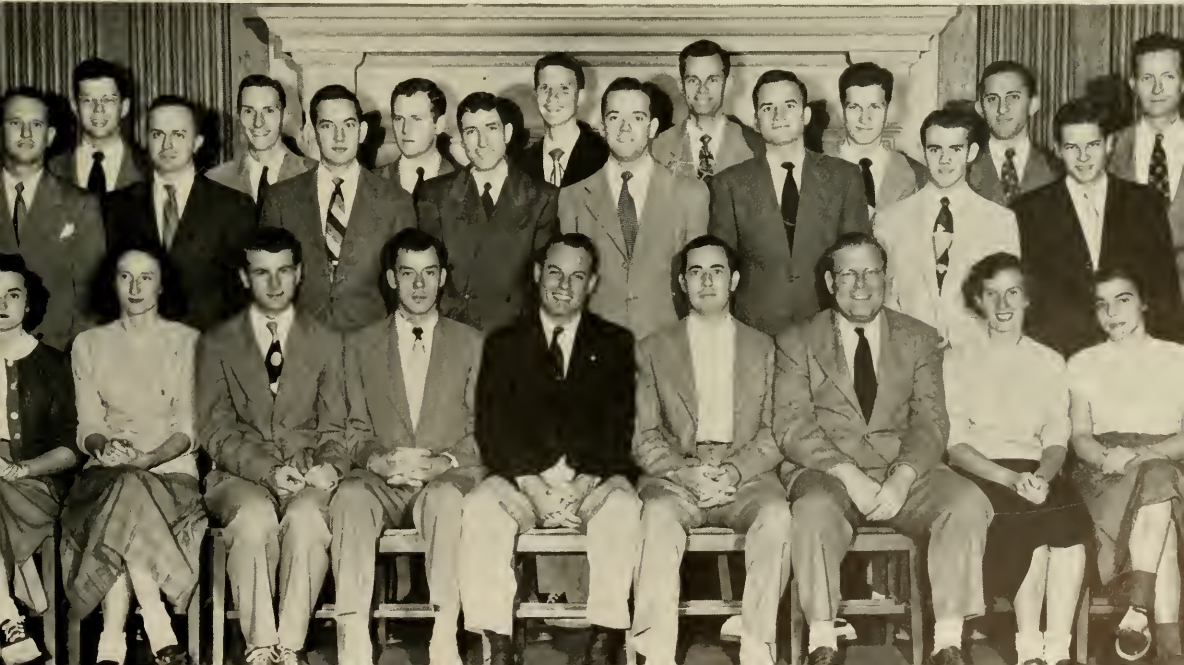

At last spring came and while minds wandered so did the seniors, all the way to Indianapolis on the Lilly trip. The picnic, tea dance, and formal dance constituted a gala Pharmacy week-end. The time came when all eyes focused on the seniors. Graduation invitations, parties, awards, and cramming for exams filled the few hours until they received degrees and turned their eyes to the State Board.

SCHOOL

OF LAW

With the start of the one hundred and fifty-fifth session of the School of Law, Henry P. Brandis, Jr. assumed the duties of Dean, replacing Robert H. Wettach. Dean Brandis, who served as legal adviser to Dr. Frank P. Graham during the crisis in Indonesia, was graduated from the University of North Carolina with an A.B. degree in 1928. He received an LL.B. from Columbia University in 1931.

The Law School Association, an organization consisting of all law students, performs, through its elected representatives, a vital function in the affairs of the Law School. It is primarily interested in developing an extracurricular program of legal education in close co-operation with the Law School.

One of the most important activities of the Association is to supervise the law club arguments, in which every student is urged to participate. This activity, together with the sponsorship of a speaker's program, which brings to our school annually a number of outstanding members of the legal profession, serves to enrich the legal education of all students.

The Law School has its own student publication, the North Carolina Law Review, published quarterly during the academic year. The highest scholastic honor attainable by a law student is to be selected for membership on the editorial board before his graduating year.

While the School of Law is somewhat divorced from the undergraduate body, its students try to remain in constant contact through such organizations as the Student Legislature and the Honor Council.

Active participation is taken in the University's inter-mural program by the law students although it means the loss of precious study hours.

With the increase in the enrollment in the law school during the post war period, the 1949 session of the State Legislature found it expedient to appropriate funds for an addition to Manning Hall, present home of the Law School. This building, erected in 1923, was named for John Manning, a distinguished professor in the school from 1881 until 1899. The nearly completed addition will provide library and classroom facilities adequate for present and future needs.

SCHOOL OF PUBLIC

In the words of Dr. Milton J. Rosenau, the renowned first dean of the School of Public Health, lies the purpose for the existence of this school —“The foundation stone of our School of Public Health was designed to build still better health services.”

The object of the School is to provide the scientific ground-work which underlies sound public health administration. To this is added some acquaintance with modern public health procedures of a selective type. The program includes lectures, sanitary surveys in the field, various exercises, and laboratory work.

Dean

During the years from 1935 to the present the Division of Public Health of the School of Medicine has become the School of Public Health and it has grown from a training center for the Southeastern United States to one for all states and foreign countries.

Dr. E. G. McGavran, the second and present dean, assumed, in 1947, leadership of the School of Public Health which trains students for the various fields of Public Health work-Administration, General Sanitation, Sanitary Engineering, Parasitology, Nursing and Education.

THE SCHOOL OF MEDICINE

DEAN W. R. BERRYHILL

This year marks the beginning of the fulfillment of a dream that has been in the hearts of many North Carolinians for years. Construction has begun on a new medical building and four-hundred-bed hospital. It is impressive and heart warming for those who witness this advancement in medical education in North Carolina.

The present two year school holds a position of highest esteem nationally. Its graduates readily transfer with advanced standing to the foremost schools in the United States and Canada.

The student medical society, organized in 1908, is called the Whitehead Medical Society in honor of Dr. Richard H. Whitehead, the first dean of the school. The society sponsors programs on which prominent out-of-state speakers, as well as members of the medical faculties of other institutions in the State and of this school, appear. The four medical students who complete the first year with the highest academic standings automatically become the officers of the Society during their second year.

The Medical student body has its own honor council which functions within the framework of the University Student Government and the General Student Council. There are seven members of the Council elected by the Whitehead Society.

Although the medical curriculum is of necessity thorough and somewhat confining, medical students take an active part in the campus activities. Social highlights include the annual Law-Med dance in the winter quarter and Student-Faculty Day in the spring.

GRADUATE

W. W. PEARSON
Dean of Graduate School

Following the Civil War and during a part of the distressing period of Reconstruction the doors of the University were closed. With the re-opening of the institution in 1875, the authorities proceeded almost immediately to establish graduate study as a recognized University enterprise.

During the administration of President Venable (1900-1914), the Graduate School was organized. In 1903, the Deanship of the graduate department was created. The first dean, Professor Charles Alphonso Smith, who was appointed in 1903, headed a committee of five members on graduate study. The President and the committee were concerned with the formulation and effective administration of high standards. Courses separate and distinct from those carrying undergraduate credit were organized and offered.

President Edward Kidder Graham, who was installed in office in 1894, enlarged and strengthened the faculty. He brought to the University many persons then and later active in scholarly production.

A Committee on the Graduate School, composed of five members, was appointed to consider plans and principles of reorganization. Under the forceful leadership of Dean Greenlaw, this committee reviewed the Graduate School as to its structure, requirements, accomplishments, and aims. In 1920, the committee of five was expanded into an Administrative Board of eight members, nominated by the Dean and appointed by the President. In addition to being an administrative body, the Board in effect became an executive council and, in a limited sense, a legislative council. As now organized, it is composed of twelve members, with the Dean as Chairman; four of the members represent the Division of the Humanities, four the Division of Philosophy and of Political and Social Sciences, and four the Division of Mathematics and the Sciences.

As recommended by the Administrative Board, a Graduate Faculty was organized in 1920. The degrees offered under the supervision of this faculty are Master of Arts, Master of Science, and Doctor of Philosophy. In addition there are professional graduate degrees in education, public health, regional planning, and social work.

The Air Reserve Officers Training Corps has a two-fold mission: to train junior officers who have the qualities of leadership and mental aptitude for later service, if the need arises, in the United States Air Force; to widen the focal points of citizenship and military training in order to benefit both the student and his country.

Monogram Club

Formed originally to promote friendship among the boys who have won varsity letters, the Monogram Club is the organization for all monogram winners. The group got off to a good start in the fall when it played host to children from two orphanages at each football game Carolina played in Kenan Stadium. Through the efforts of the monogram-wearers many children who would not ordinarily be able to see college football games were able to witness the Tar Heels in action. Each week the club showed movies of the previous week's game. A small charge was made to students seeing the movies, and the money was contributed to the local polio drive. In this way students were able to see close-up action shots of all of Carolina's games, and the Monogram Club was able to contribute money to a worthy cause.

The Monogram Club has actively participated in the Big Four Monogram meetings for the past two years. Composed of letter-winners from Carolina, State, Wake Forest and Duke, the gathering is for the purpose of creating better understanding and closer relationships among the four schools. Officers for this year were President Ed Washington, Vice-President Dick Bunting, Secretary-Treasurer Deon Cassell, and C.A.A. Representative Laddie Terrell.

During Orientation Week in the fall the Monogram Club held an open house in the clubhouse for all freshmen and new coeds. In this way the club did its part to welcome new students to Carolina.

1950 FOOTBALL

HEAD COACH CARL G. SNAVELY

The 1949 football season was known all over the United States as the year of the sophomores' return. This was especially true in Chapel Hill, where over 20 of last year's squad members graduated, leaving gaping holes in the new Carolina Grid Machine to be filled by untried sophomores. The sophomores came up from an undefeated freshman team and did admirably well, enabling the Tar Heels to finish the season with a record of seven wins, three losses, and a trip to Dallas and the Cotton Bowl. Carl Snavely, the old master, was at the helm for the fifth straight year and his star pupils were All-America Charlie Justice and his passing mate, All-America Art Weiner.

The Tar Heels opened the season with four straight wins over N. C. State, Georgia, South Carolina, and Wake Forest. Then they played their first night game in many seasons in Baton Rouge against a strong L.S.U. squad and their victory string was snapped, 13-7, under circumstances that created a furor in the sports world. The following week the Carolinians returned home, only to be smacked down by Tennessee, 35-6. After a successful invasion of Williamsburg the Tar Heels ventured to New York to meet the mighty Irish of Notre Dame. After playing gallantly for three periods, the Carolina boys succumbed, 42-6. The following two games resulted in victories for the Tar Heels and top flight performances for Art Weiner, who saved the day in the Duke and Virginia games.

The 1949 season was opened in Kenan Stadium with a 26-6 victory over the N. C. State Wolfpack. In perfect football weather a sellout crowd of 44,000 watched as the Tar Heels unveiled their soph-studded squad. The Tar Heels were ahead all the way, but were given a stiff fight before the Wolfpack went down. Charlie Justice started things off midway in the opening period with a 10-yard touchdown pass to End Kenny Powell, climaxing an 80-yard drive. The half ended with Carolina ahead, 7-0. State came back in the third period, scored six points, and held Carolina scoreless. But Sophomores Skeet Hesmer and George Verchick and Justice each scored once in the final period to sew up the game.

Against the Wolfpack All-America End Art Weiner starts his pass-catching campaign that he ended by tying the major collegiate record of 52 caught in a regular season.

The second game — and second win — came at the expense of Georgia. A Kenan Stadium capacity crowd watched as the Tar Heels, tied, 14-14, with three minutes left to play, marched 63 yards to score the winning touchdown. After a scoreless first period Art Weiner caught an 8-yard pass from Justice to put the Tar Heels ahead, 7-0. Georgia's Walston tied it up in the third with a beautiful 59-yard run after pulling in a Ray Prosperi pass. Justice put the Tar Heels out in front again with a 13-yard scoring run, only to have Eli Maricich make it 14-all with a clever 88-yard punt return. Then came the play of the year as Billy Hayes tossed a 33-yard pass to Weiner who bulled his way through two Georgia backs to go over for the score.

Wingback Fred Sherman, and Fullbacks Billy Hayes and Dick Wiess did the honors in the Tar Heels' third win of the season in Columbia, S. C., over the Gamecocks, 28-13. It was a bad day for the Tar Heels, but despite the inefficiency of their air arm, they managed to score more points than the inspired, but rather tired, Gamecocks. Sherman scored twice and it looked like the reverse was again a part of the Carolina offense. After a Justice-Weiner pass put the ball on the 3-yard line, Hayes tripped over, followed a few minutes later by a carbon copy action on the part of Wiess for the final score.

It was Charlie Justice day in Kenan Stadium as the Asheville Flyer scored three times to defeat a strong Wake Forest team, 28-14. After Wake Forest took a 7-0 first-quarter lead, Justice and Dick Bunting scored in the second period to put the Tar Heels ahead for good. Bunting's score came on a 31-yard pass interception return and Justice scored on a five-yard jaunt. Justice scored again in the third period on another five-yard run and in the fourth on a 14-yard trip. Bunting played the entire game, at right end on offense, replacing the injured Powell, and at left half on defense.

General Bob Neylond's Vols came to Chapel Hill in late October to hand the Tar Heels their worst defeat since the Texas game of 1947. It was a 35-6 upset win for the Tennesseans as the Tar Heels couldn't do anything right. On the first play of the final period Wiess saved the Tar Heels from a shutout with a short scoring plunge over right tackle. But that was the only spark in an otherwise dull day for Carolina football fans.

A fourth down desperation pass in the last five minutes of the William and Mary game put the Tar Heels back in the win column after suffering two straight losses. With the Indians ahead, 14-13, and only 4:10 left in the ball game, Hayes pitched a 13-yard pass to Weiner, who gathered the ball in and scampered across the Indian goal line. William and Mary scored first and held a 7-0 lead at the end of the first half on Lex's 28-yard pass to End Vito Ragazzo. Carolina tied it up in the third on Justice's 22-yard pass to George Verchick. The Tar Heels went ahead on Justice's thrilling 75-yard punt return in the third, only to fall behind once more on Mogdziak's touchdown in the fourth. Then came the Hayes-Weiner pass and the victory.

UNC - ND

It was a cloudy November day and the biggest Saturday of the year for Tar Heel football fans as the Carolina squad travelled to New York's Yankee Stadium to meet the powerful Fighting Irish of Notre Dame. And meet them they did, for the lowly-rated Tar Heels held the nation's best to a 6-6 tie for the first half, then tired in the fourth quarter to go down to a 42-6 defeat. The Tar Heels, playing without the services of Charlie Justice, were the talk of the nation as the news went out at halftime. Dick Bunting had scored Carolino's touchdown early in the first period after Ken Powell blocked an Irish kick near the ND goal line. It wasn't until halfway through the third period that the Irish could get rolling and then they really steamed, scoring four touchdowns in the final period to smother the Carolinians.

It wasn't until the last ten seconds of the Carolina-Duke game in Durham that the Tar Heels were assured of a 21-20 victory. And it was All-America Art Weiner who clinched the win and with it the Southern Conference championship by blocking Mike Souchak's field goal attempt from the 28. Duke scored on the first play of the game, but by the end of the half Carolina led 7-6 on Weiner's pass reception. Carolina scored twice in the third, on a Justice-Weiner pass and a Hayes-Justice pass, and scored two more points on a blocked punt by Dave Wiley and Joe Dudeck.

The Tar Heels closed out the season by defeating Virginia in Chapel Hill, 14-7, and accepting the accompanying bid to the Cotton Bowl, which came as a surprise to all. It was, as usual, the Justice-Weiner combination that gave the win to Carolina. The Tar Heels scored their touchdowns in the second period, and then staved off a late Virginia rally to win. Justice scored for the Tar Heels on a 14-yard run and then passed 63 yards to Weiner for the other score. Michels scored for Virginia late in the fourth period.

COTTON BOWL; RICE 27 – UNC 13

Whatever the Rice Owls had, the Tar Heels were lacking until the final quarter of the 1950 Cotton Bowl classic in Dallas, Texas, but by then it was too late and Carolina went down to its third straight post-season defeat, 27-13. Playing in their third bowl game in four years, the first time in Dallas, the Tar Heels were bottled up by Rice, Southwestern Conference champion, and were unable to break through until the last period with the score 27-0. Up to then the Owls had dominated most of the play, but Carolina refused to quit and staged two 80-yard drives to the end zone. Blockingback Paul Rizzo was the scoring hero for the visitors from Chapel Hill. He tallied both of Carolina's touchdowns. The first came on a six-yard pass from Charlie Justice while the second came on a lateral from the same fellow. Justice was trapped while going around left end from the eight, but was able to push a lateral to Rizzo, who scooped it up on the first bounce and went the rest of the way. The brilliant line-plunging of Fullback Billy Hayes was outstanding for the Tar Heels while Rice players Tobin Rote, Froggy Williams, Joe Watson, and Gerald Weatherly starred for the winners.

Two of the greatest triple-threat backs of all time got together when the Tar Heels arrived in Dallas and together they left for Jacksonville where they captained the opposing teams in the Senior Bowl. That's Doak Walker of SMU on the left with Carolina's Charlie Justice.

A great time was had by all in the city of Dallas and Freshman Coach Chester Crowell Little seems to be getting a big kick out of that famed Texas hospitality. The litesome lady is Gloria, an eye-catching magician who helped entertain the Tar Heels at a pre-game party. Little played stooge.

Paul Rizzo (66) and Charlie Justice (22), who fed the ball to Rizzo for both Carolina scores, smile for the cameraman at the close of the contest. Irv Haldash (25) on the left and Billy Sate (looking over Haldash's shoulder) just look grim as they file off the field on the short end of a 27-13 score.

Last year's predictions were bad, but the basketball forecast this season was even worse, if possible.

BASKETBALL

But because of the pessimism concerning the chances of the White Phantoms against their cage competition during the year, it could be said that the Tar Heels did comparatively well for themselves during the first half of the season and things pointed to more success in the home stretch. With no help coming up from last year's freshman squad, Coach Tom Scott and assistant Pete Mullis were forced to mold a team from among veterans of the 1948-49 outfit. Captain and Center Sherman "Nemo" Nearman and Forward Hugo Kappler were the only two regulars returning, but reserves John Tsantes, a forward, and Guards Bill White and Howard Deasy filled out the first five. This outfit played spotty ball in the pre-Christmas campaign, but caught fire in the Dixie Classic in Raleigh. Bowing to powerful West Virginia in the first round, the White Phantoms pulled the surprise of the tourney by upsetting Duke. Underdogs against Rhode Island State, Carolina again played well, losing in an overtime period

The Tar Heels were hurt by Rhode Island, however, when Tsantes broke his nose. Tsantes' injury was partly offset, however, by the start of the winter quarter and the return to eligibility of Charlie Thorne, regular guard last year. Thorne sparked the Tar Heels to a close victory over Maryland, but Carolina again played the eccentric, bowing to Hanes Hosiery, defeating Davidson, and dropping a crusher to Kentucky. They bounced back, however, taking two games from Miami. White, Irving Turk, and Simon Terrell alternated at the reserve guard post, while Dick Patterson, a transfer from Pfeiffer Junior College, Red Wells, and Hal Ferraro teamed at the forwards, with Red Bennett and Frank Redding the reserve centers.

The 1949 Carolino baseball team had adequate fielding and exceptional batting power, but lacking enough pitching depth, they were unable to win consistently against their Big Four opponents and thus failed to retain the Southern Conference title they won the year before.

BASEBALL

Coaches Bunn Hearn and Walter Rabb put out one of the best hitting clubs in Carolina's history, but eight league losses—all in Big Four competition—stood in the way of the league crown. Except for these Southern Conference defeats, the Tar Heels dropped but one other contest and that was a 6-0 no-hitter recorded by Florida in their opening game of the season. After that initial loss, Carolina swept on to 12 straight victories before coming up against the eventual champion, Wake Forest, which during the regular season won all four decisions with the Tar Heels. All told, Carolina won 20 games while losing nine and tying two. In the Southern Conference, the Tar Heels posted a 12-8 mark while in the Big Four they were way under .500 with eight losses as compared to five victories.

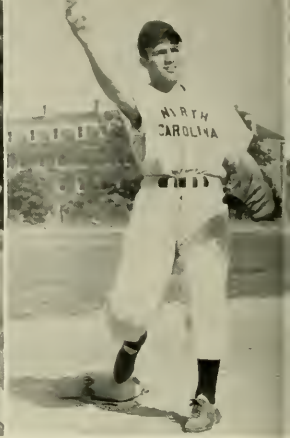

Nothing could be taken away from the Tar Heel sluggers, however, for it was in this field that the local baseballers excelled. Five regulars compiled averages that ranged from .381 to .333 to head the list and two men were close in line for the Big Four batting title until the closing days of the season. Sophomore Secondbaseman Stan Goodman was the man with the .381 average. Finishing second in the Big Four, Goodman led the team in home runs with three and in runs scored with a total of 35. Goodman batted in the number two slot and in addition played a fine game afield. Another outstanding man on the squad was Catcher Sid Varney, whose .360 mark was only good for fourth place in the team race. Varney, who was near the top in every batting department, also improved behind the plate and was named to the second-string All-America baseball team. Runnerup in the matter of averages with .370, but leading with 47 hits, was Rightfielder Ed Lamb, who was followed by Shortstop and Co-Captain Rip Ryan. Ryan smacked eight triples to lead in that division as he ran up a .361 mark. For once, his slugging far overshadowed his fielding. Rounding out the big five with a .333 mark was Don Ward, who won the regular left field position midway in the season and came fast to build up his average.

SOCCER

Carolina's soccer team, Southern Conference champion in 1948, failed by a lone goal to repeat the performance in 1949, bowing to the University of Maryland, 1-0, in one of the most exciting games ever played in this section of the country. Coach Marvin Allen guided his team to a 7-3 record for the season, with the three losses to a trio of the nation's top teams, Navy, Penn State and Maryland. Victories were scored over Duke and State, twice each; Washington and Lee, Virginia and Richmond Professional Institute. Outstanding among the booters this year were front-line performers Dave Ferebee, Eddie Foy and Joe Bach; backs Jesse Greenbaum, Frank Nelson and Bill Rhoades and goalie Buck Blankenship. Ferebee set a new University scoring record this year. A strong sophomore contingent gave indications that Tar Heels would continue on top.

CROSS COUNTRY

Paced by the sterling performances of Captain Sam Magill, Carolina's 1949 cross country team added still another winning season to the brilliant athletic record of the University. Magill, defeated by only one dual meet opponent and second in the Southern Conference meet, set several new records as he blazed to glory on the various wind-swept courses. As a team, the Tar Heel harriers copped four wins and went down to defeat three times. The Blue and White also finished second in the conference meet and took second in the Big Five Meet. Gordon Hamrick, a sophomore sensation, ran in the number two position, while Jerry Lewis, Frank Hooper, Otis Honeycutt, Billy Burgess, Ed Dixon and Buzzy Field rounded out the starting eight. Victories were posted over Wake Forest, Virginia Tech, Tennessee and Virginia and losses were to State, twice, and Duke. Coach Dale Ranson was again at the helm.

WEIGHTLIFTING

They started out by practicing in an abandoned quonset hut and although the Carolina weightlifters are still an unofficial group at the University, the members of the squad now hold their daily workouts in the Tin Can. The weightlifters first organized last spring when they got together a team to enter local and regional AAU championships. Several Tar Heels won individual titles in these events and the team also triumphed in a dual meet with Davidson.

FENCING

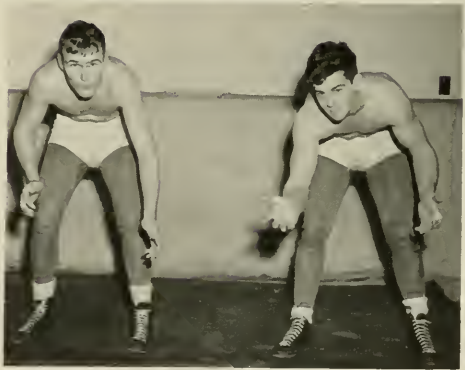

Also beginning in the spring, the University Fencing Club showed signs of gaining official recognition in the near future. Spring exhibitions with State College started things off and the local failsmen under Coach Franz Ross planned an ambitious schedule for their first postwar season the following winter quarter. Dual meets with State and VMI were on the card along with a triangle meet with Virginia and Johns Hopkins and a quadrilateral affair at Chapel Hill which pitted Carolina against Virginia, State and Kentucky.

WRESTLING

The outlook appeared bright for the Tar Heel grapplers at the season's start this year as an experienced crew of wrestlers reported for practice. Most had seen action as freshmen last year while five lettermen from the 1949 varsity squad also returned. These were headed by two Southern Conference champions, 155-pounder Phil Kemp, voted the outstanding wrestler in the Conference tournament last year, and Oscar Gupton, who captured the title in the 165-pound class. These two were joined by veterans Kenny Hoffman, 121; John Stoioff, 175; and Heavyweight Joe Augustine. Sophomores were expected to bolster the squad with Bob McGimsey, Tam Cox, Barry Farber, Joe Aaron and Chigger Qualls the top prospects for Coach Chuck Quinlan.

Hit hard by the loss of a number of key men through graduation and ineligibility rulings, the Blue Dolphins were still favored to dominate Southern Conference swimming during the 1950 season. With Dick Jamerson back as head coach after a year's leave of absence and Ralph Casey as his assistant, the Tar Heels showed they still had plenty of talent left by defeating VPI and Duke in their first two dual meets. Ohio State, however, had too much for Carolina and the powerful Buckeyes, NCAA champions last year, ran off with a resounding 62-13 victory. It was the first defeat in Chapel Hill for Carolina since the Georgia Tech meet in 1947. Navy, LaSalle, and Georgia Tech were the top foes on the dual meet card after Ohio State

But the Blue Dolphins still had Jimmy Thomas and Norm Sper, both of whom made the NCAA All-America team last year. Sper was outstanding as a diver and a backstroker and after a year's absence from the springboard was scheduled to return to diving to strengthen Carolina in that event. Sper won the National AAU platform diving championship during the summer. Thomas displayed his talents in almost every event, winning consistently in the 220, 440, backstroke and individual medley. The best breaststroker on the squad, Thomas was switched to that event after the Ohio State meet. Also expected to pick up points for the Tar Heels as the season progressed were diver Jack Whichard, distance man Cecil Milton, breaststroker Charlie Bartlett, and sprinters Kirby Ambler and Kent Williamson. By defeating VPI and Duke, the Tar Heels ran their streak of consecutive Conference dual meet victories to 42.

Albans continued in the spring to give the added spark to one of the best squads ever put out by Coaches Bob Fetzer, Dale Ranson and Joe Hilton. Albans was the team's high scorer although an injury kept him out of the Southern Conference meet, which the Tar Heels won with 75

In addition to the loop meet, the cindermen's best performance came in the Penn Relays where Albans teamed with hurdlers Bob Morrow, Dick Taylor and Jack Moody to set a new meet record for the shuttle hurdle race. Bob Kirk was first in the javelin event and Bob Seligman and Sam Magill won seconds in the discus and two-mile, respectively. The squad was undefeated in dual meet competition and Southern Conference titles were won by Co-Captains Julian MacKenzie and Billy Joyner, Halstead Holden, Magill, Taylor, Kirk and Seligman.

GOLF

As much as any man connected with the school Harvie Ward added to the athletic stature of the University last spring when he became the second Carolina student to hold a national title by winning the NCAA golf championship at Ames, Iowa. Ward's impressive triumph capped off a year of sterling golf as the number one man on the Carolina links squad, a year which started with the Tarboro star's victory in the Golf Club Champions tourney in Florida. Ward then moved on to the North-South Amateur tournament at Pinehurst where he just missed retaining the title he won last year. Ward and Frank Stranahan clashed in the final as they did in 1948, but this time it was the big man from Toledo who came off with the 2-1 victory. In the National Amateur, Ward got to the quarter-finals before bowing out to the Tournament's eventual winner, Charley Coe, in an extra hole playoff.

In the regular season, Ward played well as the team won eight matches while losing two and tying one. The linksmen finished third in the Southern Conference tournament, as the three leading teams all broke the record score of 585 set by the Tar Heels two years ago. Duke had the low card of 580, Wake Forest was next with 581, and Carolina came in third with a 584. Once again it was Captain Vic Seixas, ranked seventh among the nation's amateurs, who led the Carolina tennis team through 22 dual meet victories only to have its undefeated record spoiled by the Tar Heels' old nemesis, William and Mary. Seixas, who won the "finest sportsman" trophy for his showing in last year's tournament circuit, failed to defend successfully his Southern Conference singles championship in the league tournament last spring, losing to Fred Kovaleski of William and Mary in the finals, but he teamed with Clark Taylor to win the doubles crown. Seixas, competing in his final meet for Carolina, lost again to Kovaleski when the two teams met in their dual meet the day following the tournament. Only three regulars from the 1948 team, Seixas, Taylor and Charley Rice, were back with Coach John Kenfield, but Coach Kenfield was able to mold a strong squad with the addition of last year's reserves. Stan Gruner, Duke Wilder and Jim Winstead stepped into the top sextet with Las Dameron and Bob Kerdasha the leading reserves. Taylor was elected to captain the 1950 tennis team.

LACROSSE

Last year for the first time since 1941, Carolina fielded a lacrosse team. Under the capable direction of Coach Bill Darden, the Tar Heel stickmen made their way through a ten-game schedule. Although losing every game on the tough card, the Blue and White gave each team a battle. The Tar Heels were sparked by the brilliant play of Kirk Manning, Jesse Greenbaum, Fred Poisson, Bob Kavanaugh, Harold Taylor, Grant Lynch and Nemo Nearman. The team opened the season with three losses to the University of Delaware, and followed with a pair of losses to Duke and successive defeats by Washington and Lee, VMI, Virginia, Annapolis Lacrosse Club and Norfolk Division of William and Mary. Probably the best game played by the Carolina stickers was the 2-1 decision dropped to Norfolk Division. Observers felt that the team showed marked improvement with each game and that 1950 might produce some startling surprises. Spring found Darden back at the head with most of his 1949 stars returning for another season of play. The status of the team had not been definitely established, but it was felt that lacrosse might be elevated from a club to a minor sport. Manning and Lynch were elected to serve as co-captains.

THE CARD BOARD

Under the tutelage of Head Cheerleader Norm Sper, the Card Board has probably done more for Carolina spirit this year than any other one thing. Introduced at the 1948 Blue-White game and making its first public appearance at the 1948 Carolina-Texas contest, the color cards have become as synonymous with Carolina spirit as hard-working Sper himself. From the time the stunts are planned by artists Pat Faircloth, Tom Wharton and Don Moore until the 41 ushers take up the cards at the end of the half-time period, over 2500 students have had a hand in the show. This year the cards were taken to two out-of-town games, Notre Dame and Duke, and they received numerous compliments from all who saw them. Yankee Stadium fans were greeted with a picture of the skyline of New York. As the spectators watched the display, dozens of yellow lights came on in the black skyscrapers. Probably the greatest stunt of the season was the Justice to Weiner pass at the Virginia game. The animated stunt showed Justice tossing a pass, the ball moving toward the receiver, and finally Weiner's perfect catch and subsequent touchdown. The Card Board, which grew from the small group of interested students who worked in the Monogram Club to the present squad of some 50 students, including artists and ushers, has received much praise from those who have seen the stunts and especially from the Duke card section, which still thinks that card stunts just can't be done.

INTRA

"You name it and we got it" seems to be the motto of the Intramural Department at Carolina, which has been moving consistently toward providing more and better opportunities for students to get out and compete in some activity. With the completion of the first nine holes in the University golf course this year, a golf tournament was added to the long list of fall quarter activities.

MURALS

The pattern is the same in the winter and spring quarters where almost every type of activity imaginable is sponsored by the mural department under the leadership of Walter Rabb. The Annual Sports Carnival is the highlight of the winter quarter when campus championships in most activities are decided and members of the Big Four get together in the spring quarter for their annual tournament.

Practicing fundamentals, getting in condition, or just listening to the coach, Carolina's freshman athletes spent their apprentice year preparing for future service on the varsity.

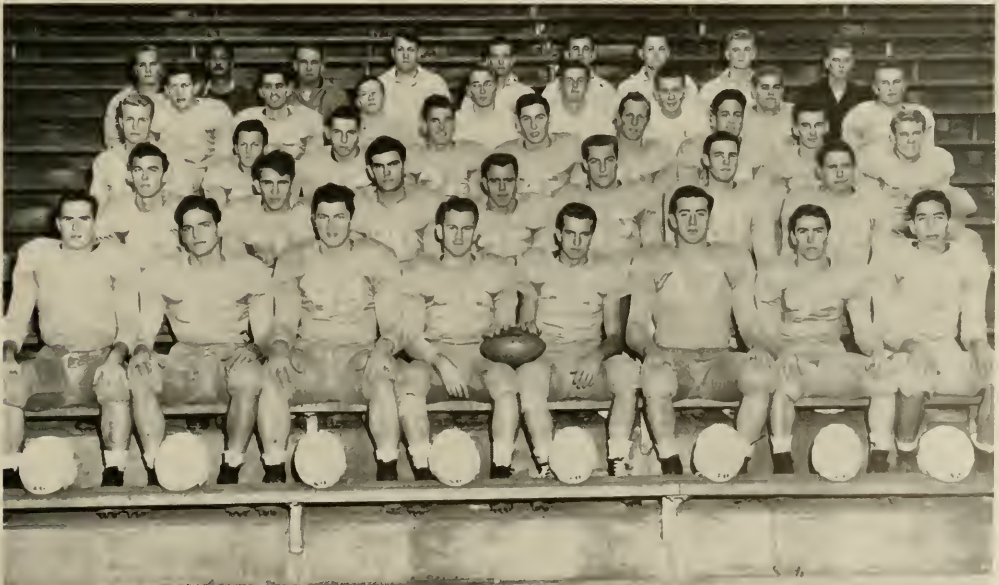

FRESHMAN SPORTS

Freshman athletics during the spring and fall of 1949 and the winter of 1950 were, for the most part, very successful at Carolina. The baseball and tennis teams shared the spotlight in the spring on the basis of their winning records. Track and lacrosse, the other spring sports, did not fare as well and both turned in records which showed fewer victories than defeats. However, capable coaching and the indomitable Carolina spirit made competitors from these teams just as valuable varsity additions as did the men from the winning teams. The spring of 1949 marked the first time since pre-war days that there was a concentrated freshman athletic program and interest was at a high peak. Members of these teams received valuable training in sportsmanship and learned to compete not only to win, but for the love of competition. Through the application of this spirit, Carolina's freshman coaches continued to develop the type of athlete who has always represented Carolina and has been humble in victory and honorable in defeat. Under the direction of Coach Henry House, the Tar Baby baseball team won 11 games, lost only three and had one incomplete tie game on the record book. The Big Four record was 8-3. Jack Kenfield's tennis team won eight of 11 matches and in seven of these victories, the opponents failed to score. The track team won three and lost three under Coach Dick Hollander and finished third in the State freshman meet. The lacrosse team was on an informal basis and had no official coach or record.

In the fall Carolina looked forward to a very successful freshman football season. Talent had been gathered from New England to California and most of the prospective squad members had been high school or service standouts. When it was announced that the team would run from the unfamiliar "T", speculation ran high. Coach Crowell Little's eleven went through the season unvictorious, but lost four close ones. Only Duke was able to post a decisive win. Freshman soccer suffered a like fate. Under the guidance of Frank Nelson, the Tar Baby booters went through a tough schedule winless. Defeat was administered to both teams only through sheer physical and, in some cases, numerical superiority. The will to win was as keen as ever and varsity football and soccer will benefit by additions of these men to the squads next season. This past winter found freshman prospects especially high. The freshman swimming team was hailed as one of the greatest in the University's history and the freshman basketball team was cited as the best in over a decade. The swimmers, coached by Bob Ousley, swept through the early part of the season undefeated and even whipped the varsity in a dual meet. Jim Hamilton's basketball team lost only three games in early season play and came right back to avenge each one. Two notable victories were scored over State's highly regarded frosh quint in Woollen Gymnasium. Coach Jim Edwards' strong wrestling team gave notice that future varsity teams would be strengthened in almost every weight classification.

All coeds with a high medical rating must take physical education and nearly every sport imaginable from modern dancing to hockey is offered.

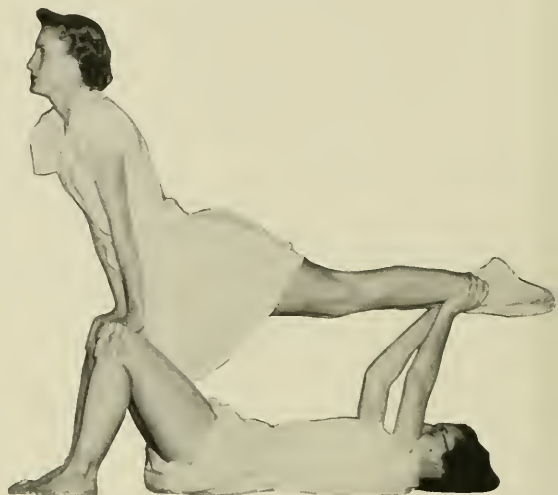

WOMEN'S SPORTS

Headed by President Jane Gower, the Woman's Athletic Association is composed of all coeds at Carolina. Sitting on the WAA Council are Vice-President Lucille Horner, Secretary Carolyn Guthrie, Treasurer Dat Smith and Awards Chairman Margaret Booth, in addition to one representative from each dormitory and each sorority. The WAA officially opened its year with a picnic behind the gym during Orientation Week to which all new coeds were invited. During fall quarter it sponsored the intramural volley ball tournament and a tennis tournament. The Pi Phi's won the volley ball championship and Alpha Gam Audrey Brown was proclaimed tennis champion. During winter quarter the coeds played basketball, table tennis, and shuffleboard, and in the spring they competed in softball.

WOMEN'S

In addition to the regular physical education courses and the WAA - sponsored intramural activities special clubs have been formed to give specialized practice in certain sports. The Splash Club, composed of girls who are good swimmers and like to do fancy group swimming, met at night in Bowman Gray pool. During the year its members gave several exhibitions and also entertained the varsity swimming team with a party. During the fall quarter the Hockey Club, in addition to playing intraclub games, engaged teams from Elon, Woman's College and several other schools. Coeds desiring to improve their skill in basketball were invited to join the Basketball Club, which met twice a week in winter quarter. During the year the women's physical education department offered classes in over a dozen different sports.

The National Chapter of Alpha Epsilon Delta established the North Carolina Beta Chapter of this honorary pre-medical society at the University of North Carolina on March 25, 1936. Since that date the local chapter has been active as a guiding group to interested pre-medical students. It has helped to give these students an insight into the problems and philosophy of a medical career. By the presentation of guest lecturers from the various phases of the medical profession, visits to hospitals, and similar activities, the chapter has endeavored to bridge the gap between the Pre-Medical School and the School of Medicine.

PHI ALPHA DELTA

Phi Alpha Delta is a national secret Greek law fraternity founded in 1898 by a group of law students in Chicago, Ill. It has chapters in 62 of the leading American law schools and 31 alumni chapters in the larger American cities. The total membership of the Fraternity is approximately eighteen thousand.

The Ruffin Chapter of Phi Alpha Delta at the University is composed of 32 members. Meetings are held every two weeks, in addition to a luncheon given at least once a month, at which prominent men of the legal field speak. Once each year a mock trial is held with a justice of the N. C. Supreme Court presiding, and members of the fraternity acting as councils for the respective parties.

To round out the social side the chapter usually has a get-together twice a semester with their wives and dates.

XI Chapter RHO CHI SOCIETY

University of North Carolina

Rho Chi, the National Pharmaceutical Honor Society, evolved from a local pharmaceutical organization which was established at the University of Michigan, College of Pharmacy on May 4, 1908. Today's membership in Rho Chi is the most coveted achievement for a Pharmacy Student.

The XI Chapter of Rho Chi Society was established at the University of North Carolina in 1929 with eight members. Throughout the years the Society has continued to grow.

Rho Chi's fundamental objective is to promote the advancement of the pharmaceutical sciences through the encouragement and recognition of intellectual scholarship. Dinner meetings are held each month to bring undergraduate, graduate students, and faculty members together in fraternal and helpful comradeship. Our aim is to make ourselves and our fellow students more professional, more ethical, and more useful to the world in which we live.

ALPHA PHI OMEGA

Alpha Phi Omega is the national service fraternity for former Boy Scouts. It was founded in 1925 at Lafayette College, Easton, Pennsylvania. The local chapter was chartered May 19, 1930 as the seventeenth chapter of the national service fraternity which now boasts over 200 chapters in colleges of the nation.

Dr. E. Charles Powell, of Goldsboro, North Carolina, was the first Rho chapter president. On February 25, 1949, Rho chapter was reactivated and initiated 46 members in its first year.

Alpha Phi Omega renders service to student body and faculty, to youth and community, to members of the fraternity, and to the nation as participation citizens. This year Rho chapter will endeavor to enlarge its program and increase its service to the campus, community, and nation.

Phi Mu Alpha Sinfonia was founded at the New England Conservatory of Music, Boston, Massachusetts, in 1898. Its aims are to advance the cause of music in America, foster the mutual welfare and brotherhood of students of music, develop the truest fraternal spirit among its members, and encourage loyalty to the Alma Mater.

The Alpha Rho Chapter, founded at the University of North Carolina in 1926, takes an active part in the furtherance of musical activities at the University. Each year the chapter presents its American Music Program, a concert devoted to the performance of works by American composers and usually including compositions by members of the fraternity. Whenever possible, Phi Mu Alpha brings to the campus well-known guest artists.

Keeping in mind the advancement of the best in music, Phi Mu Alpha attempts to develop a strong fraternal feeling among the promoters of that art.

THETA PSI EPSILON

Alpha Chapter of Theta Psi Epsilon, national honorary chemical sorority, was established in 1944 by the women students in the department of chemistry. Its purpose is three-fold: to unite women who have chosen the same fields of study, to promote an interest in chemistry, and to foster mutual advancement in academic, business and social life.

Each year the members have an opportunity to hear qualified speakers in the field of chemistry. Many graduates in chemistry are heard at the weekly meetings in Venerable Hall.

Another outstanding project is the annual visit to a nearby industrial laboratory to see industrial chemistry in operation.

Sigma Theta Chapter of PHI CHI

Since its founding in 1905 at the school of Medicine here, the Sigma Theta Chapter of Phi Chi has been especially active in extracurricular activities, both of an academic and a social nature. It has become an integral part of the medical student's lives who, as Phi Chis, strive to make themselves a source of strength and pride to their Alma Mater.

Sigma Theta functions socially throughout the school year with the enthusiastic participation of every member, indicating that medical students can have as much fun as others during their "spare" time. Watt's Grill, Sparrow's Pool, the Mercury Club, and Wrightsville Beach have all played their part. Such functions have led to a more congenial student-faculty relationship as well as student-student relationship.

For the future this chapter is planning and hoping for a Phi Chi House at its new expanded four-year home. Also eagerly anticipated are more conventions for the personnel of the various departments to attend.

There goes C. M. headed for Statesville. "Stovewood" Austin and "Lunch box" going to Smithfield. "Poker" Beal and "Never lose" White want to show a few, "88" Ace might be talked into it. Clifford has just about turned rebel. Major McNeely and Lt. Boseman are sporting DMS Medals. "Volley ball" Thompson and Jeff are good representatives from Rocky Mount. Callahan wants a little order. Got a job, just call Gene. Delto Sig's own "Nature Boy." Love loves Durham. Duncan can spin some toll tales. "Little" Joe and his woman trouble. Seen Pete "the Greek"? Watch out women the Clayton Creamer and Tiger are loose. Delta Sig's brain is "Phi Bete Clyde." "Honest" John will write you a good policy. Ellis moves the question. Don gets along with those Watts nurses. Let's go out to the Buc and see Wilber. Bobby Joe, they're still talking about that Concord woman. Hinnont is buzzing the house again. Carl, we hope it's a boy. "Lawyer" Fortesque. Bonnor and/or Ned. "Fly boy" Humer and "Lover" Russell headed for W. C. Chief Jones is in the Varsity Cellor. "Mail Order" Korres should major in insurance. There goes "Big Boy" McArver. "Paper boy" Melton delivers the goods. Mericko is close to W. C. Joe Billy wants to talk. Is Bud a Wake Forest Baptist? "Fat Boy" and "Bingham" Rosser are brothers. Sop Jack is going to Wall Street. Gil is a "religious worker." "Chuck" and Puerto Rico. Hoke and Cot live in Raleigh. "Handsome" Jack likes the Capital City also. Will "pin Ball" Talbot come across? "Tootsie Roll" wants to know about fingers. Bill "Wolf," need we say more? "Little hook" Tzantes scores one. "Mas" Wright should have done this and didn't.

The Tau Chapter of Chi Delta Phi, national honorary literary sorority, was reactivated at the University of North Carolina on June 4, 1941. Its purpose is to promote literary activities and appreciation on the campus. As an honorary society, it accepts one per cent of the coed student body as members each year, on the basis of submitted manuscripts.

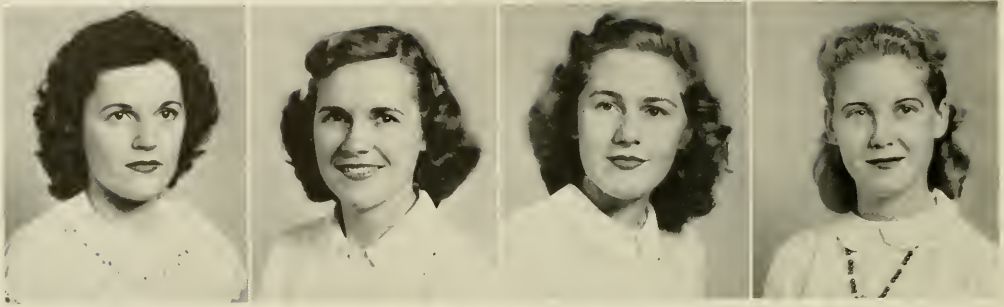

In an attempt to improve their own writing, the members met in closed sessions once each month to read and criticize their own work. They contribute to and support campus publications, and, working with Panhellenic Council and CICA, write and produce the annual May Day pageant.

The Iota Tau Chapter of SIGMA ALPHA IOTA

Iota Tau, one of the newest active chapters of the International professional music fraternity, Sigma Alpha Iota, was formally installed at the University of North Carolina on April 29, 1946. In an impressive ceremony held by national officers, eighteen girls became the first active members.

The group though small in number, is limited to music majors and minors, and is active in musical function on campus. Meetings are held regularly once a week.

In the past the Iota Tau chapter of Sigma Alpha Iota has presented various musicals, and last year presented "The Beggar's Opera" by Gay and Pepusch given in collaboration with Phi Mu Alpha and Sound and Fury.

The purpose of Sigma Alpha Iota is to promote good will and foster friendship through musical and social means.

Officers: President, Janet Lewis; Treasurer, Katherine King; Editor, Barbara Young; Social Chairman, Ann McNeely.

KAPPA EPSILON

The Lambda Chapter of Kappa Epsilon, national honorary fraternity for women pharmacy students, was formed at the University of North Carolina on January 21, 1941; and since that time has become an important part of the Pharmacy School. Kappa Epsilon was established to stimulate in its members a desire for high scholarship, a professional consciousness, lasting loyalty, interest and friendship.

LUCILLE RIELEY
President

The Panhellenic Council is composed of three representatives from each sorority and two from the Stray Greeks. The advisor is Mrs. Emery Denny, Jr. The purpose of the council is to further relations between these organizations, and the council members feel that this year has been a most successful one.

With the publishing of the Panhel Manual, the council improvised the system of formal rushing, and 122 girls were pledged by the five sororities.

The Panhellenic Council and CICA joined together during Orientation week to present a fashion show for the new coeds. The main project of the council for the year was the adoption of a little French girl. Each sorority did its part by writing letters and sending gifts to the child.

In the spring Panhel had its annual workshop for old and new members. At this time new rushing rules were made and final plans were completed for May Day, a highlight of spring quarter.

Following their annual tradition, the council awarded a silver loving cup to the sorority with the highest scholastic average for three quarters.

INTERFRATERNITY COUNCIL COURT
Alec Watkins, Bill Wilson, Andy Cornish, Nothon Booc.

The I.F.C. governing body of fraternities at UNC is composed of two members of each fraternity, the fraternity president and a junior member. Its purpose is to further by unification and high ideals — brotherhood, character, and citizenship — of the individual fraternities.

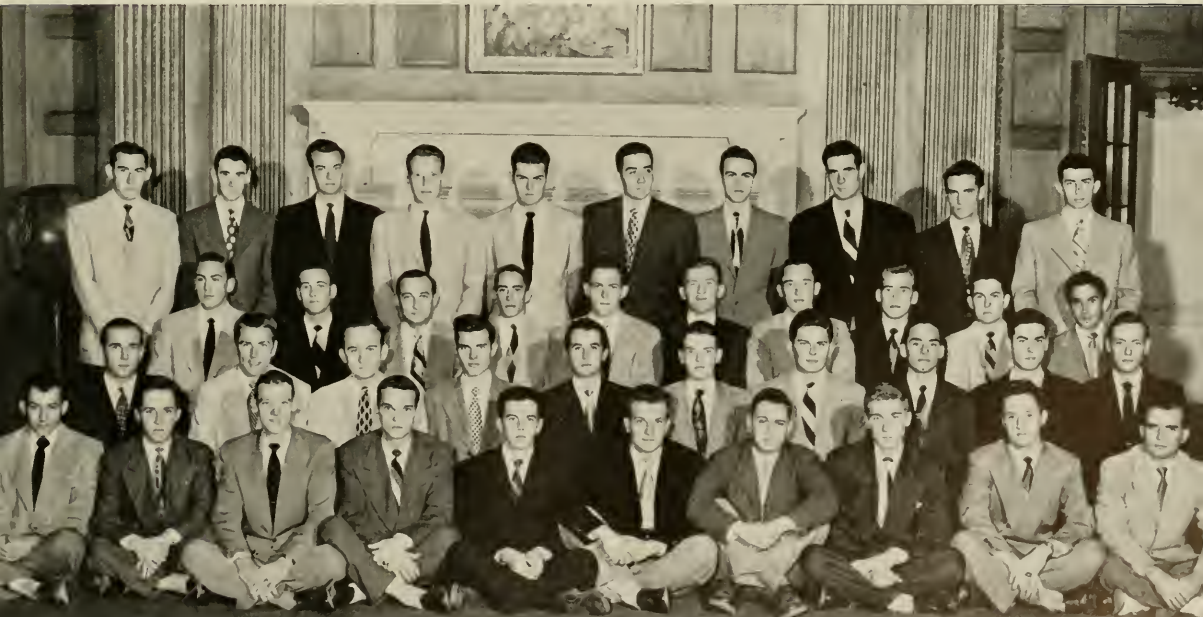

During the past year, under the successive and very capable leadership of Charlie Loudermilk and Allison Pell, the I.F.C. has functioned in a way most beneficial to its fraternity members as well as to the University itself. Among its notable achievements, the I.F.C. may point to: the award of its own scholarship, the Andrew Bershak Interfraternity Scholarship, improvement in scholarship and organization among the several fraternities, attendance to the National Interfraternity Conference, and the strengthening of its judicial body, the I.F.C. Court.

A dynamic body, with unity of purpose and steadfastness to its ideals, the I.F.C. of the University of North Carolina will continue to strive for the betterment of its members, both in their relations to other groups and organizations, its ideals being the development of men as students, citizens, and brothers.

Sklut studies again. "Aren't you going to the show, Fred?" "Na, I have to write a letter." Nobody Nase the trouble I've seen. Zeke (by the dozen) Zimmerman getting it wholesale again. You can hear Ray Uden murmur, "It's OK as long as DeHart is in the right place." Rony—"There's a Chapter In My Life Called Marilee." "Paddle" stands alone—"I resign."

Naturally, there was a Thanksgiving House Party, and everybody was giving thanks that the ABC store stayed open late that night.

Would there be another Chi Phi year like 1949-50? But this one will live long in the memory of those graduating and those who remain. . . . The house party after the State game . . . the "sudsy" fall reunion after the summer lapse . . . the happy visit of the Eta chapter for the Georgia game and their sad but "spirited" departure.

The fall Alumni Banquet and Dance which gave the brothers of years back a fleeting memory of their college days . . . the hectic and harrowing trial of rush week which brought assurance of a strong future brotherhood with 19 welcomed pledges . . . The third annual Orphan's Party at Christmas, always the highlight of the year, once again a rousing success.

. . . The winter quarter's pledge banquet and dance, the spring house party bring to mind the scares of parties at Crabtree, Hagan's, trips to the city of Exciting Stores, that made the year a challenge to the class of '51.

"Tote that borge! Lift that bail!" shouts Steve Kenny as he gives Bill Hovis a healthy workout the day following his initiation into Chi Psi in November. Hovis was at a loss without the almighty black mark to shoo his tormenter away.

"Go to hell!" shrieks Polly, the venerable parrot that has watched the boys come and go at the Chi Psi Lodge for the past 21 years. She is shown perched on Bob Cathey's shoulder with Fred Matthews, Fritz Schneider, and Lew Chapman grouped around. Polly refused to budge from the shoulder of the staunch Rebel despite the pleas of the three boys from the other side of "The Line." The parrot is an established Southerner, and speaks with a distinct accent.

A bunch of the boys are gathered for a bull session, but some of the guys seem a bit preoccupied. Al Dickson gozes in owe at an undisclosed photo in the latest "girlie" mog, while Zone Robbins gasps "Whatto Body!" Dennis Smith mokes like Burl Ives with the guitar, and Fritz Schneider stoutly renounces his native Pennsylvonio, choosing the Stars and Bors.

The time that has elapsed since this time last year has been too full of events to remember them all here. The Old South secession ceremonies in Raleigh went off well in spite of the so-called "Mint Julips."

We were happy when Peppy began speaking to us again after she got the "award." We recall the Burl Ives party when "we all went down to _____ the Beto house." Then there was the cup that "ronneth over" that Stump and Cornwell won for us with their Beat Dook float.

We regretted losing the troops that got paroled this year but welcomed the best pledge class we have had in a long time. Like Wharton says, though, it has been a good year even though it may need recapping now.

Featured activities and special events are the buffet suppers after the football games, the two house parties in the Winter and Spring and the social get-togethers with the local sororities . . . Special projects of the year are the banquet with the Duke Chapter on Founder's Day and the all-out plan for reconstruction and general improvement of the House.

The most outstanding event of the year will be the Southern Regional Meet at the Lambda Chapter for the states of Georgia, Virginia, North and South Carolina . . . The Homecoming lawn display featuring the Carolina Ram in victories over its Southern Conference foes was awarded the silver loving cup for having the best display by a Fraternity . . . The Phi Kap intramural eleven almost added another cup to the laurels as they were nosed out in the semi-finals 15-14.

"Whitney" the mascot decided to stay in Swedesboro this year after winning first place in the Eskima Spitz breed last year. He was the only Spitz to be entered . . . Every one of the rooms in the House were painted this year with rooms varying from one color to four . . . Quite a number of the men traveled to New York to see the Tar Heels drop a close decision to Notre Dame.

The Pi Kapps returned to school early and made improvements and repairs around the house and in the yard. Beginning its second year after being reactivated on campus, Pi Kappa Phi had 21 brothers living in the house and nearly that many residing in dorms and private homes.

Celebrating another Carolina victory! Who could forget those week-ends which included jam sessions featuring "Hick," Gib, and "Wild Bill," combined functions with chapters at

State and Duke, and the Rose Ball held annually in the spring. Yes, it was a big year for Kappa, and it was one filled with many memories to be cherished!

Just his third time around! However, luckily, there was enough food to go around. Kappa welcomed alumni, parents and dates to open house after each football game and throughout the school year. No one was surprised to see the familiar couples of Flop and Joe and Caroline and Bill, and Curt and Hamer were recognized as the official Romeos.

Sigma Nu had its beginning at the University of North Carolina in 1888. Its alumni stand foremost in their respective national fields: Felix "Dac" Blanchard, O. Max Gardner, and Kay Kyser. Special note should be made of the former President of the Student Body, Jesse H. Dedmond, a hard worker and an illustrious leader.

A new project, given birth by Vice-President Richard G. Messenger, is the alumni newspaper, "The Serpent." Another publication, an annual, is in the making for the first time this year.

The purposes of Sigma Nu are always evident—to promote better student scholarship, activities, and social life. An outstanding social event of the Raleigh region is the Sigma Nu Triad Ball, given in December in honor of the pledges by the Duke, State, and Carolina Chapters.

"... we assert our goals to preserve order, make personal freedom secure, establish justice, and win a lasting opportunity for responsible individual and collective action."

The above excerpt from the preamble to our student constitution expresses in brief the justification for and purpose of student self-government at Carolina.

Student government officers are chosen in the spring and fall elections. Chairmen and members of standing committees are appointed by the President and approved by the Student Legislature.

Here, in our self-governing student community, student government has come to be known not by the mechanics of organization but rather by the fact that all students have a voice in determining the manner in which student activities shall be operated to such an extent that we have attained an enviable position among college student bodies.

This year, Student Government, under the Mackie administration has made notable progress in formulating and carrying out the most effective system of Summer School government yet devised; in planning and executing the most comprehensive and successful Orientation Program for new students that the campus has ever seen; in the work of the Constitutional Revision Committee; and in the material cooperation extended to the National Students Association on the campus, regional, and national levels. Furthermore, it has successfully begun work on two long-range projects: the establishment of a general college Curriculum Evaluation Committee and a system of faculty evaluation by the students.

Accomplishments and services such as these insure a long and progressive growth of student government at Carolina.

The Student Legislature, founded in 1938, is now in its twelfth year of functioning as the legislative branch of student government. Nearly all rules and regulations governing students here at the University are passed by this group. Its powers are limited only by its willingness to accept the responsibility which inevitably goes with authority.

Shortly after the war, the Legislature hit what many considered a new low in its brief existence. Since then, however, it has been steadily developing, so that each succeeding year has shown great improvement over the preceding one.

During the past year the Legislature was faced with numerous problems, some of them old ones reworded, others new and vitally important to the student body. Under the capable and enthusiastic guidance of Speaker Ted Leonard, the Legislature worked with interest and celerity, and many of these problems were resolved.

Throughout the year the Legislature showed a mature appreciation of its powers, and a good amount of thoughtful legislation was the result. Debate on many questions was heated, but a vote of accord prevailed. There were few real party issues as tri-party cooperation reigned.

It was a successful year for the Student Legislature, and we are provided with undisputable evidence of the superiority of the Carolina way of life.

Men's INTERDORMITORY Council

The Men's Interdormitory Council represents over 3,000 men living in the University's twenty dormitories and quonset huts. Its membership is composed of the presidents and faculty advisors of each constituent.

The council's main functions are the improvement of living conditions in the dormitories, the enforcement of rules of conduct of men in their living quarters, and service as a court of appeals from individual dormitory councils. It also worked with the Women's Interdormitory Council to improve living conditions for all students.

President of the Men's Interdormitory Council this year was Harry Aycock.

STUDENT COUNCIL

At Carolina there are two basic principles which govern the actions of the students. They are the Honor System, which is based on mutual confidence, and the Campus Code, which is simply the requirement that students act as ladies and gentlemen.

The main work of the Student Council is to assure justice and uniformity of action to all people found violating the codes by hearing appeals from both the Men's Honor Council and the Women's Honor Council. Any student or organization penalized by any of the other courts can also appeal to the Student Council. The Student Council alone has the right of officially interpreting the Student Constitution.

The Council is composed of three members selected from and by the women students; three elected from and by the men students; three elected from and by all students — making a total of nine members.

MEN'S COUNCIL

The Men's Council, created by the student constitution of 1946, has grown steadily in strength and prestige in its efforts to restore the honor system to its pre-war level. The Council rules on all cases involving the Honor and Campus Codes and holds a high judicial position on the campus.

Composed of two sophomores, two juniors, two seniors, one member each from the Law, Pharmacy, and graduate schools, and one hold-over member, the Council, in addition to its function in handling honor violations, supervises the extensive freshman orientation program in an effort to better indoctrinate into every incoming student the importance of the Honor and Campus Codes.

The Council informs the student body of its actions by placing summaries of previous cases in the Daily Tar Heel, and by issuing statements of general policy and welfare to the students.

Officers for the year were Roy Holsten, Chairman; and Peter Gerns, Clerk.

WOMEN'S COUNCIL

As a parallel to the Men's Council, the Women's Council acts as the coed judiciary body on the campus, handling violations of the Honor Code and the Campus Code. It is one branch of the tripartite system of coed self-government, working with the Coed Senate and the Women's Interdormitory Council.

The Council is responsible each year for instructing entering coeds in the origin and meaning of the Honor and Campus Codes and obtaining their signatures on them. Its main objective is to orientate each coed into a fuller participation in the Carolina way of life.

Composed of three juniors, three seniors, one graduate student, and two members at large, the Women's Council is a living example of the coed's ability to govern themselves.

Officers this year were: Helen Eppes, Chairman; and Gene Denbo, Clerk.

COED SENATE

The Coed Senate, established in 1941 and originally part of the Women's Government Association, is the legislative body for women students. Acting as the bridge between coed and the student legislature, the purpose of the Senate is to bring the coed into the picture of student government. It is the ultimate coordinating body for coed action.

Included in the duties of the Senate is the distribution of funds collected each quarter from the coeds to the organizations on campus whose membership is made up entirely of women. The Coed Senate also ratifies all social rules which have passed the Interdormitory Council, holds election for offices in all branches of women's student government, and appoints the chairman of women's orientation committees.

The annual coed ball is presented by the Senate at the end of orientation week in the fall and each spring leadership training week is sponsored, a week designed to acquaint the newly elected officers with their responsibility.

The Coed Senate is now composed of 24 women, all elected to represent a dormitory or a town district.

The Coed Senate officers were: Patricia Stanford, Speaker; Mac Copenhaver, Speaker-protem; Marie Nussbaum, Secretary; and Carolyn Van Sant, Treasurer.

STUDENT AUDIT BOARD

The Student Audit Board has charge of the Student Activities Office, which in turn handles all the accounts of student organizations. The Student Audit Board is the auditor of the campus and keeps a close tabulation in all financial matters.

The Board is composed of five student members and three faculty advisors: Mr. Kemp Cate, Mr. J. A. Williams, and Dean Friday. Mr. H. A. Kear is the congenial accountant who signs all the checks and keeps the records.

Any organization on the campus may operate their funds through the Student Audit Board as well as the organizations receiving funds under the block fee.

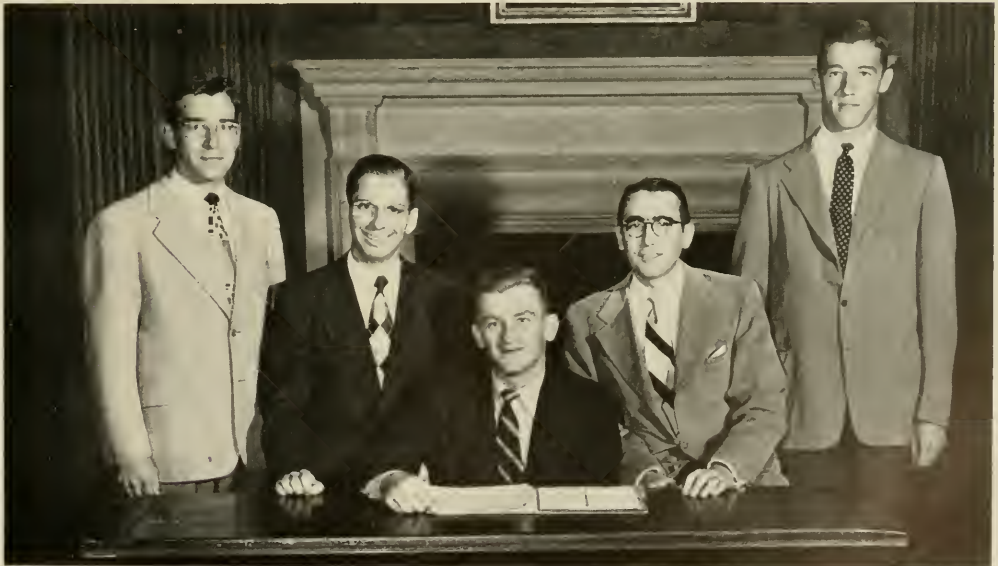

The Board endeavors to offer every student organization the best possible accounting service.

Women's INTERDORMITORY Council

BARBARA LOWE
President

The third branch of coed self-government is the Woman's Interdormitory Council. Composed of dormitory presidents, sorority house managers, and the president of the Town Girls Association, this group works with the Board of Residence in regulating dormitory life and contacts through house meetings.

An administrative body, its functions include interpreting social regulation, recommending changes in regulations in Coed Senate, and supervising the House Councils. Through Interdorm, all coed administration is coordinated and linked to the Office of the Dean of Women.

Special projects for the year were the sponsoring of a House Council Training Conference in the fall and working with the Men's Interdormitory Council on mutual dorm problems and activities.

Bobbie Lowe served as President, and Estelle Suddreth, as Secretary of the Women's Interdormitory Council. Clara Jane Burroughs served as representative to Graham Memorial Board of Directors.

Our purpose: To unite in a desire to realize a full and creative college life . . . To determine to have a part in making this life possible for all people . . . To seek to know God; to understand Jesus and follow HIM. . . .

The Coed "Y" was formally organized at Carolina in 1937, and has grown from a small nucleus of interested students to the largest coed organization on campus, headed by an executive director and her assistant. Twenty-three committees hold weekly or bi-weekly meetings covering interests from the conducting of a Ballet Class for children to a consideration of world affairs and international relations.

The Y.W.C.A. at Carolina is a living, working organization, encompassing all phases of the student's life. The varied committees include Public Affairs, Careers, Y-Teens, Music, Book Club, Publicity and Publications, Baby Sitters, Recreation, Dorm Stores, Social Service and Human Relations, Cabinet Worship and Campus Vespers . . . and more, all working together to achieve the purpose of the whole organization.

Officers for this year were: Anne Chandler, President; Kitty Altizer, Vice-President; Jean Serpell, Secretary; Ruth Whalen, Treasurer; Executive Director, Gay Currie, and her Assistant, Sue Stokes.

GRAHAM MEMORIAL

Graham Memorial, the University student union, is the social and activity center of the campus. Its services include a newly-instituted carpenter shop where students may receive instruction in woodworking, and a sign-printing shop to serve student organizations, as well as a travel agency, barber shop, mimeographing service, photo dark room, music lounge and information center. The entertainment activities sponsored consist of such functions as free dances to which all students are invited, weekly floorshows in the Rendezvous Room and classical and popular music concerts.

JIM RATHBUN
Director

The newly-appointed director, James Rathburn, an energetic and resourceful administrator, planned an interesting, constructive program for the year to keep pace with the ever-increasing needs of the expanding student body.

Every student is a member of the union, to the support of which $1.00 of the block fee is allocated. Dedicated as a memorial to Edward Kidder Graham, the building was completed in 1931. It is student-managed and student-staffed. The over-all direction of Graham Memorial is in the hands of a 12-man board composed of students, faculty and administrative members as follows: Escheats Officer Kemp S. Cate; Dean of Students William C. Friday; Dean of Women Katherine Carmichael; Professor E. J. Woodhouse; J. Myron Saunders, Secretary of the Alumni Association; Chairman Ben James; Pete Gerns; Ed McLeod; Muriel Fisher; Ruth Whalen; Dick Jenrette; and V. A. Hoyle, Jr.

The building houses the offices of Student Government and all of the student publications as well as furnishing meeting space for over 130 campus organizations.

In the spacious oak-panelled main lounge, completely equipped with individual reading lamps, soft comfortable chairs, and the latest newspapers and magazines, students are welcome to read, study, or play games from early morning until late at night.

YACKETY YACK

PUBLICATIONS BOARD...1950

The Publications Board is the ruling financial authority of the three student publications, the Daily Tar Heel, the Yackety Yack and Tarnation. The Board budgets the publications, makes their contracts, audits their books, approves their appointments and handles the other miscellaneous financial chores that go into the publishing of a yearbook, newspaper and magazine.

The Board is restricted to control in manners of finances only, though, with all editorial authority secured in the hands of the respective editors under the Constitution.

For the past few years, the Board has busied itself with an expansion program designed to give the student body bigger and better publications with an extensive stretching of the income dollar.

Faculty members to the Board for the year were Dr. J. M. Lear, Mr. Stuart Sechriest and Mr. John T. O'Neil. Billy Carmichael, III, Charlie Gibson, Dick Jenrette and Tom Wharton were the student members. Chuck Hauser replaced Carmichael when the latter graduated during the year.

The officers of the Board were: Billy Carmichael, III, Chairman; Charlie Gibson, Secretary; Dick Jenrette, Treasurer; and Tom Wharton, Coordinator.

Having looked through the preceding pages of the Yackety Yack — here you are at the Yack page — but we're at a loss for words. It's a little difficult to talk about something that you have published yourself.

All year, we, a staff composed of forty, have worked attempting to give you a true version of life at Carolina. Every minute, for weeks and months, and many hours into the night, staff members frantically typed, identified pictures, sorted out copy, and rushed all over campus rounding up information to meet the deadlines.

So here it is — your Day at U. N. C. We hope that for years to come, as you look through this book, you will be able to recall the days you spent at Carolina and the way you remembered it in 1950.

The Daily Tar Heel got off to a "jet propelled" start for the 1949-50 year when it became the first college newspaper to put out an airmail edition. Two issues were sent by Eastern Airlines to New York for the Notre Dame week-end.

The fall of '49 saw other new things around the offices on the second floor of Graham Memorial. The United Press news service left and the Associated Press moved in, installing three new wires. Also new were two columns on the editorial page. Drew Pearson and Bill Rcese became permanent fixtures.

Under the reins of Editor Dick Jenrette the Daily Tar Heel took great strides forward in its effort to give to its readers an accurate and up to date picture of local, state and national news.

With "Old Reliable" Chuck Hauser still on the Managing Editor's desk the paper continued to have the old zing in its makeup.

And so the oldest college daily in the Southeast passed another milestone. Published in the little village that has a reputation of being the liberal center of the South, the paper gave to its readers an unbiased view of the happenings.

JIM SOUTHERLAND
Ad Manager

After the spring of 1949 when the N. C. Collegiate Press Association voted Tarnation the best college magazine in the state, soon-to-be editor Tom Kerr started thinking that if Tarnation could beat out other magazines in this area, why not in the whole country. But he figured he would need something different, so he conceived the pocket mag idea and went to work on it.

By the end of summer he had the first pocket magazine in collegiate circles already on the presses. It was distributed to the campus long before most campus magazine staffs had forgotten their sun tans. This was quickly followed by the unforgettable football-New York-Notre Dame issue and the year's work completed by three more jobs constantly improving in continuity, art and color as they went along.

Editor Kerr had a hard-working staff helping with his new idea. Herb Nachman, veteran managing editor; Charlie Long, business manager; John Langston, ad manager; and two competent associate editors in J. P. Brady and Tom Wharton, who was a former editor of the mag, added their talents to the five issues.

TOWN GIRLS ASSOCIATION

The Town Girls Association is now well established as an important coed organization on the campus. As an organized group, the Association provides an opportunity for the girls who live in Chapel Hill to become acquainted with student affairs and to participate in extra-curricular activities.

JANET ELLINGTON
President

The Town Girls Association plays a leading role in many campus projects. One of the most popular events of the year, the annual Sadie Hawkins Day race, sponsored by the Town Girls in conjunction with other groups. Other main features of the Town Girls Association's program for the year were a party for the graduating coeds in the spring and the operation of a refreshment booth in the Rendezvous Room during the Christmas holidays.

Officers this year were: Janet Ellington, President; Rebecca Huggins, Vice-President; Madge Crawford, Secretary; Mary MacKeer, Treasurer; and Dot Sloan, Social Chairman.

CAROLINA FORUM

The Carolina Forum was formed in February, 1948, by act of the Student Legislature. It was originally composed of one representative from each of the following: Di Senate, Phi Society, Student Legislature, Carolina Political Union, International Relations Club, Collegiate Council for the United Nations, and one member at large, appointed by the President of the student body. The Forum had and still has as its objective the procuring, coordinating, and presentation, in cooperation with member and other organizations, of speakers of national and international note in government, labor, industry, etc. to the campus. The Forum got off to a successful start in 1948-49 with the presentation of seven speakers, including Senator Robert Taft, Governor J. Strom Thurmond, Marriner Eccles, and others. This year, the Forum hopes to present Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt, Mr. Cyrus Ching, and several other outstanding speakers in its effort to bring to the University a well-rounded speaker program.

UNIVERSITY

The University Club is primarily a service organization and all of its functions are carried through in the interest of the student body and the University. The motto of the Club—for the University—is self explanatory of the purposes of the club.

Composed of a representative from each dormitory, fraternity, sorority and the Monogram Club, it has direct contact with almost every student on the campus.

The functions of the Club are many and varied. Through its cooperation with the Athletic Association, the Club

The University Party, having functioned continuously for over two decades, is Carolina's oldest political organization. Throughout the years the University Party has presented qualified candidates to the campus and has constantly strived to increase the efficiency and effectiveness of Student Government.

The organizational structure of the party consists of the general party, the steering committee, and the executive committee. University Party meetings are held regularly to discuss political issues and give every interested student an opportunity to participate in the activities of the party. The steering committee is composed of one elected representative from each of the member organizations of the party. Any student group of twenty-five or more members may qualify for membership in this body which formulates party policies and serves as a medium of expression for participating groups.

It is the firm conviction of the party that this type of organization provides an efficient organ for administering the functions of political parties in student government. This belief has been strengthened by the high caliber of University Party Candidates elected to responsible student government offices.

The officers who comprise the executive committee are: Fletcher Harris, Chairman; Wilson Yarborough, Vice-Chairman; Muriel Fisher, Secretary; Charlie Foley, Treasurer; Paul Roth and Zane Robbins, Publicity Directors.

The University Veterans Association was founded in the summer of 1945 for the purpose "of providing an organized veterans association which shall represent the interest of the veterans of the student body on all problems concerning their welfare."

This year the membership was about eight hundred. Included in this membership were members of the Air and Naval ROTC units who came into the Association as a result of action taken by the vets in the fall quarter.

An important activity of the Veterans Association is the maintenance of the Vets Club. The clubhouse is operated to provide relaxation and entertainment for members and their dates. Vestal Taylor is clubhouse manager.

The Association is governed by the officers and Board of Directors. Included in this year's Board were R. P. Early, Jr., and Walton Cheeseborough. Col. Shepherd is advisor for the Association.

YMCA FRESHMAN COUNCIL

JACK BENNETT
Chairman

The Y.M.C.A. Freshman Council is becoming an important part of freshman orientation on Carolina's campus each year. This group of young enthusiasts have, through the "Y," come to direct much of the freshman activity in acclimating the youngest Tar Heels to the college circle.

The freshmen receive their start at the pre-orientation camp sponsored by the Y.M.C.A., held this year at Camp New Hope. From there those really interested in the principles of the Y.M.C.A., and with the hope of getting something lasting and worthwhile started, get together after school opens to discuss and organize a number of activities for the freshmen. Though small in number they succeed in willingness to work. This group also forms a basis to carry on "Y" work in later years here at Carolina.

This year's group along with "get-together" programs and educational meetings also sponsored social gatherings with Woman's College. An intramural league for freshmen was also inaugurated. No field of endeavor was left out by the Council as they strove to satisfy their fellow freshmen and acclimate themselves and their classmates to their new College life.

Chairman during the fall quarter was Jack Bennett. Committee Chairmen were: Bart Thrasher, Social; Bob Simmons and Bill Acker, Athletic; Richard McKenna, Program; Ken Barton, Publicity.

The University Y.M.C.A. has for the past ninety years combined a progressive program of campus activities and services with an emphasis on the Christian way of life.

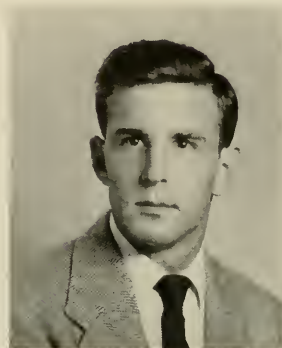

Through Campus Vespers, House Discussions, speakers, the Montreat and other religious conferences, the Y brings needed educational and spiritual programs to those students and organizations choosing to take advantage of them.

On the more down-to-earth side of things the Y maintains a lost-and-found bureau for independent raincoats, scarves, and what have you. The Freshman Handbook and the Student Directory are Y publications, and This Week in Chapel Hill keeps students up on current campus events.

At the beginning of its ninety-first year at UNC the Y looks forward to serving an ever-better University in the years to come.

The B'nai B'rith Hillel Foundation was organized twenty-six years ago by the B'nai B'rith, the largest Jewish service organization in the country. There are now 190 Hillel units serving Jewish students throughout the United States, Canada and Cuba.

The Foundation attempts to meet the religious, cultural, social, and vocational needs of the Jewish students on the campus. Activities include religious services, exhibits, forums, classes, dances, vocational information, and projects of an interfaith nature.

Hillel is a democratic organization. The program is determined by the Cabinet and by the various committees, through which the students participate in the organization. The Hillel Foundation thus helps train the students for leadership in the Jewish and the general community.

The Wesley Foundation is the organized fellowship of the Methodist Student Movement at work in the university community. Its purpose is to provide for the spiritual, moral, and social needs of students.

The Foundation has the objectives of leading students to become followers of Jesus Christ and to help them find a vital personal relationship with God. The program endeavors to develop a supporting group in which individuals will mutually strengthen one another in Christian living, and to help create a new world order embodying Christian ideals and the highest human values.

The organization functions through committees covering areas of Worship, Program, Social Action, World Community, Finance, Recreation, Deputations, Drama, Publications, and Publicity.

Through the Council of Religion-in-Life it cooperates with other religious groups on the campus.

The Varsity Band, under the direction of Earl Slocum, Professor of Music, and Assistant Director, Hubert Henderson, is organized to accomplish a dual purpose (1) to furnish colorful programs at football games and various University functions and (2) to provide opportunities for student members to study and perform the best musical literature written for the concert band.

After football season the large unit known as the Varsity Band is divided into two concert bands. These smaller units render concerts together and separately. Last year each band performed at a clinic held in Chapel Hill for visiting North Carolina Bandmasters. The two bands combined their efforts when they played in Charlotte, North Carolina, last March for the convention of the American Bandmasters Association. They also performed together for lawn concerts here in Chapel Hill during May and at Commencement.

UNIVERSITY SYMPHONY ORCHESTRA

CLAY CRISP
President

The University Symphony Orchestra was organized in order to give instrumentalists the valuable experience of playing together and other people in the vicinity the opportunity of hearing the standard symphonic music first hand.

The orchestra, numbering over fifty players, is composed of students, faculty members, and townspeople. Besides its three concerts every year, it accompanies operettas and oratorios presented by local organizations.

The officers for this year were: Clay Crisp, President; James Moore, Vice-President; and Georgia Fox, Secretary-Treasurer.

SOUND AND FURY

The original musical comedy organization on the campus was "Wig and Mask." This group was composed of such outstanding persons as Norman Cordon, Kay Kyser, and the late Hal Kemp. Shortly before the war the name was changed to "Sound & Fury" and the group at that time produced one of its biggest shows. During the war the organization became inactive and it wasn't until 1945 that the group made a comeback. It was rough getting started and "Sound & Fury" is just now getting its feet planted firmly in Carolina soil again.

"Sound & Fury" is a group of students, both dramatic majors and otherwise, organized to produce good home-grown musical comedies. At the present time its policy is to produce three shows a year.

In the future "Sound & Fury" hopes to be able to furnish small touring groups to provide entertainment for organizations on and off campus. Another future aim (possibly to be realized this year) is to tour at least one of its yearly shows to the college campuses in this vicinity.

"Sound & Fury" is a proving ground for student composers and writers; a training place for people interested in any phase of musical comedy or general theatre work.

An event most "Sound & Furiers" look forward to is the cost party held after each production.

THE CAROLINA PLAYMAKERS

The Carolina Playmakers, who completed their thirty-second season this spring, are the laboratory producing group for the Department of Dramatic Art and constitute a community theatre for the Campus and Chapel Hill. The drama organization, which was founded by the late Frederick H. "Proff" Koch, is now directed by Samuel Selden.

The Playmakers, who have long been famous for their student written one-act plays, have now shifted emphasis to the full length playwriting form.

Each year they produce five major plays, one of which is usually staged in the outdoor Koch Memorial Forest Theatre, and experimental presentations of three full length and eight one-act student written plays are presented.

This year the Playmakers presented Kayteyev's "Squaring the Circle," Colton and Randolph's "Rain," a drama by Pulitzer prize winner Paul Green, "Angels Full Front" by Francis M. Casey, and Robinson Jeffer's adaptation of "Medea."

The Carolina Playmakers is not a closed organization, but offers a welcoming hand to townspeople, students, and visitors who are interested in taking part in the activities of the group.

CAROLINA POLITICAL UNION

The Carolina Political Union is a non-partisan student organization which was founded in 1936 for the purpose of bringing to the campus outstanding speakers representing various political and social viewpoints. Through the years, activities of the Union have broadened to include regular roundtable discussions and forums concerning important public issues of the day.

The C. P. U. continues to exert its influence to bring well-known speakers to the campus. Special emphasis is also given to weekly roundtable sessions which are held each Sunday evening.

THE DIALECTIC SENATE

Founded in 1795, the Di is the oldest extra-curricular activity at North Carolina. Through the years in cooperation with other organizations here it has started such activities as The Yackety Yack, the Debate Council, and one of the two libraries that were later to endow the present University Library. As the birthplace of student self-expression in the South, the Senate, after 154 years, continues to stand as a laboratory for practical experience in the art of public speaking; in leadership, and in the use of Parliamentary Law. Its training has been rewarded many times by the excelling of its members in their chosen professions as well as in their activities here at Carolina.

ARTIE MURPHEY, JR.
President

This year the Dialectic Senate has continued its policy to strengthen its membership (by a new and more careful selection system), to improve its fixtures (by a new renovations program), to co-sponsor the Annual High School Debates, and encourage Intermural Debates.

PHILANTHROPIC ASSEMBLY

The Phi Assembly, founded in the days when students debated such topics as "Is the White Man Justified in Driving Out the Indian?" has during 1949-50 emphasized the present and future potentials of the Assembly. A brilliant address by R. Mayne Albright in September keyed the year's activities.

Following its purposes of Fellowship and Public Speaking, the Phi, in Tuesday night meetings open to the entire campus, debated UNC non-communist affidavits, Governor W. Kerr Scott's "Go-Forward" program, and World government.

A series of socials including a highly successful Christmas Party gave the Phi opportunities to better know scores of new members initiated during the year.

With such leaders in the field of public service as Controller William D. Carmichael, Chancellor Robert House, William B. Umstead, R. Mayne Albright and a long list of governors, Congressmen, and statesmen on its past rolls, the Phi attempted to realize its place in Carolina life as "a laboratory of the social sciences and a seminar of a better tomorrow.

The traditional Di-Phi Debate and Banquet were continued with new vigor.

The Carolina Independent Coed Association is an organization that welcomes as members all non-sorority coeds, as well as all coed "Stroy Greeks." Its primary purposes are to organize and unify the independent women on the campus, to promote good-will and fellowship among all coeds, and to provide opportunities for the development of leadership through group activities.

Social functions in the interest of the independents are sponsored by C. I. C. A. and many worthwhile projects are undertaken in cooperation with other campus organizations. The year's activities included the co-sponsoring of Sadie Hawkins Day festivities with the Town Girls Association and the Western North Carolina Club, a Christmas dance at the Carolina Inn, the annual fashion show, and a spring party.

Officers for this year were: Caroline Bruner, President; Betty McMohan, Vice-President; Lillian Wilson, Secretary; and Dot Smith, Treasurer.

In 1944 the Stray Greeks were founded under the leadership of Twig Branch, and since then have received more and more recognition as a social group. The organization is composed of sorority girls whose chapters are not represented on this campus.

The aim of the Stray Greeks is to provide a social outlet for its members and to preserve the bonds of unity and sisterhood in sorority life. Activities of the group include picnics, teas, sponsoring of campus affairs and charity programs, and participation in sorority functions in coordination with the Panhellenic Council.

This year the membership consisted of over thirty girls, representing twelve national sororities. Officers were: Jean Ogburn, President; Nancy MacNab, Vice-President; Carrie Dixon, Secretary; Betsy Scrivner, Treasurer; Virginia Jones, Publicity Director; Jean Ogburn and Marilyn Stanley, Panhellenic Representatives.

DEBATE COUNCIL

The Debate Council is direct outgrowth of the two debating societies of Carolina, the Dialectic Senate and the Philanthropic Society. From its beginnings in these organizations, it represented for many years the student government at Carolina until it was replaced as such in the thirties by the Student Government as we now know it. The Council is composed of students who are selected by the forensic squad, one member for each of the debating societies, and two faculty advisors, selected by the Debate Council.

Present activities of the Council include representing Carolina in intercollegiate debates and other forensic matches. It also determines the policy of and governs the debate squad.

The Debate Council meets competition from most of the major colleges in the East, as well as attending the largest of the national debate tournaments, which are held annually at Fredericksburg, Virginia, and New Orleans. The competition at these events is in debating, newscasting, orations, dramatic readings, extemporaneous speaking, after-dinner speaking, and poetry reading.

Recently the Council has expanded its activities to include an annual Intramural Debate Tournament, which has aroused considerable interest among dormitories and fraternities, and sororities. It also handles the representation of Carolina at the State Student Legislature, which is an annual meeting of students from North Carolina colleges at the state capitol in Raleigh.

Officers of the Debate Council for the year were: Dave Pittman, President; and Robert Hutchinson, Executive Secretary. Mr. G. A. Barrett served as faculty advisor.

MEN'S GLEE CLUB

The Men's Glee Club, an outstanding organization on campus every year, opened another successful season this year with their joint performance with the Women's Glee Club on University Day. After the men had sung the traditional Integer Vitae, they joined the women in a thrilling rendition of BE GLAD THEN AMERICA by William Billings.

Other outstanding performances of the year included the brilliant Christmas concert, also in combination with the women, and the traditionally fine Spring concert. An extensive tour of the South-eastern States brought the season to an appropriate close.

Led by newcomer Joel Carter, the Men's Glee Club is made up of 150 outstanding voices. The men sang to capacity audiences at all their concerts, and through the able leadership of their new director, continued to advance the reputation they have established in recent years.

Officers were: Irving Silver, President; Ernie Douglas, Vice-President; Milton Bliss, Secretary; Herschell Snuggs, Business Manager; and Jack Clinard, Publicity Manager.

BARBARA YOUNG
President

Under the leadership of Mr. Joel Carter, the Women's Glee Club is looking forward to another successful season. A comparatively young organization, the Club continues to grow each year both in size and in technique.

Each year the Women's Glee Club presents a full program starting with the annual University Day Program and Christmas Concerts, given by the combined Men's and Women's Glee Clubs. During the winter and spring quarters the Club tours the state and presents its annual spring concert.

Officers for 1949-1950 are: Barbara Young, President; Jean Serpell, Vice-President; Peggy Neal, Secretary; and Effie Westervelt, Business Manager.

GERMAN CLUB

The German Club, composed of representatives of thirteen social fraternities on campus, sponsors three dance week-ends each year, bringing name bands to the campus. Under the efficient direction of Roy Holsten, President, the 1949-50 dances were claimed highly successful.

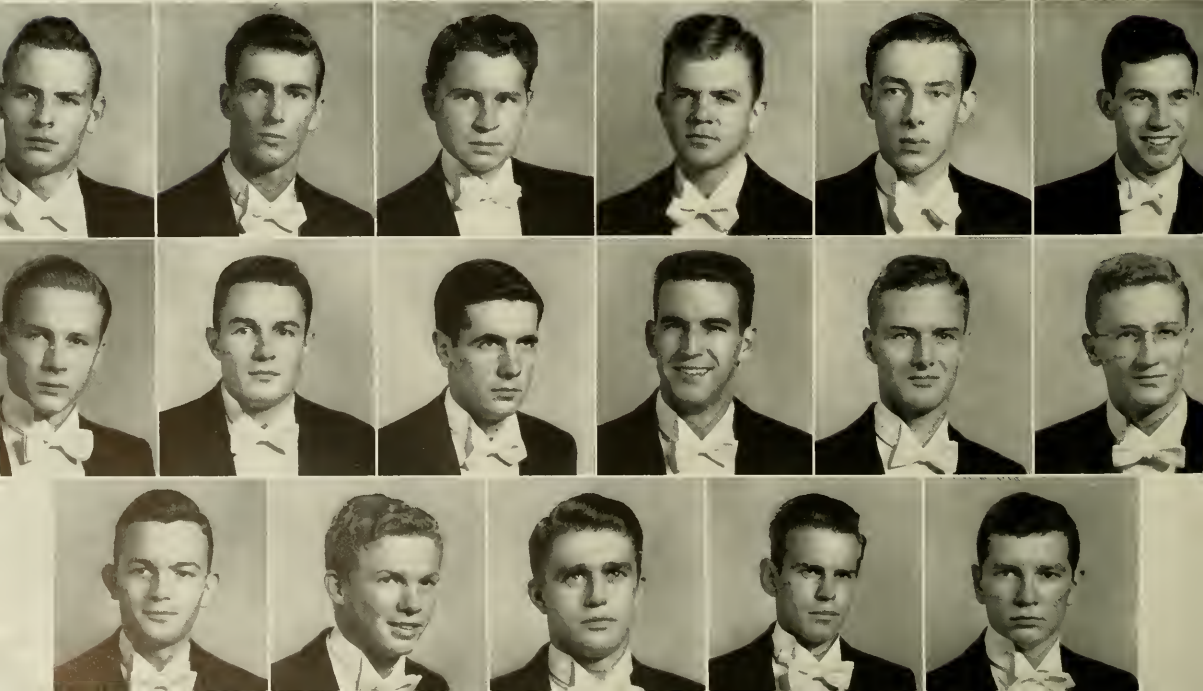

Beginning with Fall Germans in November featuring Gene Krupa, German Club activities got off to a promising start. Next on the calendar of events were Midwinters in January, bringing Tex Beneke and his orchestra to play for the event. Final dances in the spring wound up the club's social activities for the season.

Other officers include James Holt, Vice-President; William Shelton, Secretary; and Steve Jones, Treasurer. Fraternities belonging are: Pi Kappa Alpha, Delta Psi, Phi Gamma Delta, Phi Delta Theta, Beta Theta Pi, Alpha Tau Omega, Zeta Psi, Sigma Alpha Epsilon, Delta Kappa Epsilon, Sigma Nu, Kappa Alpha, Sigma Chi, and Kappa Sigma.

 • SECOND ROW: James Hardison, Franklin Herman, Roy Holsten, James Holt, Daniel Jones, Bob Morrow

FALL GERMANS

Fall Germans, at the head of a calendar of gala social events for the year under the sponsorship of the German Club, featured Gene Krupa as the main attraction of a crowded week-end. Beginning with a concert on Friday afternoon, presenting typical Krupa Bop, the week-end got off to a promising start. The crowds at the Friday and Saturday night dances were evidence of Krupa's popularity, and the quartet featured in "Leave Us Leap" was talked about on campus for weeks after the dances were only a pleasant memory.

MIDWINTERS

Midwinters, second in a series of dances sponsored by the German Club, was highlighted by the reappearance of Tex Beneke and his orchestra. At the formal dance on Friday night, German Club officers and their dates were presented in a figure. On Saturday afternoon, there was a concert in Memorial Hall, with a capacity audience, ample proof of Beneke's continued popularity at UNC. A second formal dance was held on Saturday night. Bob Mitchell and the Moonlight Serenaders, featured with Beneke's orchestra, were on hand to complete the musical entertainment. The closing notes of "Moonlight Serenade" put the finishing touches to another successful German Club dance week-end.

Finals were a perfect climax to a highly successful year for the German Club. Charlie Barnet and his orchestra were in top form for this, the last of the German Club sponsored events of the 1948-49 season. The week-end got underway on Friday night with a formal dance in Woollen Gym. Members of the German Club and their dates were presented in the figure. On Saturday afternoon the Barnet band gave forth with some smooth music to a capacity crowd at the concert in Memorial Hall. The second dance, on Saturday night, ended another perfect year of the German Club's social activities.

INFORMALS

There goes that cat, all right!

Fraternity informal

During the year many other dances were sponsored by campus organizations. In the fall quarter The Order of The Grail gave several informal Saturday night dances in Woollen Gym, and for the Tennessee week-end presented Freddy Martin and his orchestra at two dances and a concert. Sorority and fraternity pledge dances took the spotlight during the winter quarter. Fraternity house dances were also popular. The Rendezvous Room and the Vets Club are always favorite campus night spots among students. Women's dorms sponsored several open houses and dances during the year. On various occasions, square dances were held in the Tin Can through the efforts of the YWCA and the CICA. The Air and Naval ROTC units presented a formal ball, lending an air of military dignity to the dance season.

UNIVERSITY DANCE COMMITTEE

The University Dance Committee has as its foremost objectives the role of host at Carolina dances and the task of maintaining order at social functions sponsored by campus organizations. This group of students, familiar in their formal dress with blue and white rosettes in their lapels, in their careful vigilance of campus dances are striving toward making Carolina dances the functions that both students and faculty desire. During the 1949-50 season the Committee has effectively performed its duty. Headed this year by Franklin Kilpatrick, chairman, and Professor Marvin Allen acting in the capacity of advisor, the group has had a most successful year, both in helping to put on Carolina dances and guiding them toward perfection.
